Herter Hits Soviet Plan For Berlin

Secretary Calls It Disguise To Smother Freedom

GENEVA (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter Friday scorched the Soviet Union's free-city plan for West Berlin as "a disguise for gradual smothering of the West Berliners' present freedom."

He told the Big Four foreign ministers conference this Soviet plan to end the Berlin crisis would be a way-station on the road to annexation by Communist East Germany.

Herter, in a hotly worded but coldly delivered speech, lashed Communist East Berlin as "the site of one of the heaviest concentrations of subversive and spying activities in the world." He labeled them "violent, slanderous, scandalous and dangerous."

Lets Go Attack

The towering diplomat let go a 35-minute attack on Moscow's free-city plan and anti-Western activities in East Berlin as the ministers returned to the Palace of Nations for a working session.

He spelled out what the Western foreign ministers have told Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in private—that the United States, Britain and France intend to stay in West Berlin.

The American also replied, on the record, to blistering charges leveled earlier by Gromyko and Foreign Minister Lothar Bolz of East Germany against activities in West Berlin.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd of Britain, joined Herter in offering to consider the elimination of points of East-West friction in divided Berlin.

"We are willing to try to improve the present situation so as to eliminate the alleged or real causes of tension," Lloyd told Gromyko.

Appeals To Gromyko

Lloyd appealed to Gromyko to reconsider his position against the wider background. "People everywhere want the two great power blocs to develop the technique of living peacefully alongside one another," Lloyd said.

Herter said: "We recognize our responsibilities for keeping frictions between our two systems to a minimum. We recognize that Berlin, because of its unique situation, can be a source of friction. We are willing to search in good faith with the Soviet Union for some reciprocal improvement in the Berlin situation."

Trouble Halts Plane Test

EDWARDS AFB, Calif. (UPI) — Trouble in the electrical system of the experimental rocket plane X15 Friday forced a delay in its scheduled first free-glide test above the California desert.

The glide flight was rescheduled for Monday.

The takeoff of the Giant B52 "mother plane" which was to carry the X15 to an altitude of about 38,000 feet and cut it loose for its glide to earth, was called off by test pilot Scott Crossfield. From inside the rocket plane he radioed to the mother plane to stop operations as it was wheeling its way to takeoff position.

"I could tell something was wrong," Crossfield said.

Technicians discovered the trouble in the rocket ship's "environment" system, which keeps the pilot refrigerated when the plane reaches extremely high temperatures at high altitudes and fast speeds.

Atlanta Segregated Schools Declared Illegal By Court

NOMINATED—James Henry Wakelin, Jr., has been nominated by President Eisenhower to become assistant Secretary of the Navy. Wakelin, 48, is a scientist and research expert from Lawrenceville, N. J. (AP Photofax)

Officials Told Not To Discriminate

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Atlanta school officials Friday were enjoined from discriminating against Negro pupils by a federal court which earlier declared the city's segregated schools are illegal.

The injunction was granted by U.S. Dist. Judge Frank A. Hooper who said he would give the Atlanta Board of Education a reasonable time in which to submit a plan for integration. He said that any final order would not mean integration next September.

In a statement at the end of the hearing, Hooper said that his final order would cover three points:

1. That racial discrimination has and does exist in Atlanta's schools.

2. The plaintiffs would be granted an injunction against this discrimination.

Reasonable Time

3. That the Atlanta school officials would be allowed a reasonable time to submit a plan for integration.

Hooper heard the case with U.S. Dist. Judge Boyd Sloan who acted in an advisory capacity. At the outset Hooper told the participants that his court has no alternative "except a ruling to the effect that the operation of racially segregated public schools in Atlanta violates the 14th Amendment of the U.S. Constitution."

This was an apparent attempt to forestall any prolonged arguments over the case. However, attorneys for the plaintiffs and for the city insisted on being heard.

Hooper said he was making the statement "in order to clarify the issues," and that such a tentative ruling would not mean immediate integration or closing of Atlanta's schools.

Will Be Appealed

Under state law any schools ordered integrated would automatically lose state funds and could be closed by the governor to preserve peace and order.

B. D. Murphy, leading counsel for the board of education, said after the decision, "It's my guess the ruling will be appealed."

Starkweather Execution Set For June 12

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—The Nebraska Supreme Court Friday set June 12 as the new date for the execution of condemned killer Charles R. Starkweather.

The court specified the electrocution should take place between the hours of 12:01 a. m. and 11:59 p. m.

This is the fourth appointment with death made for the 20-year-old ex-garbage hauler who has admitted involvement in 11 killings—10 of them during a bloody rampage 16 months ago—and has been convicted in one of them.

Previous execution dates 8 the last one May 22, only 98 minutes before the bow-legged gunman was scheduled to be strapped in the electric chair — all were set aside.

The court set the new execution date in response to a formal request filed earlier Friday by Nebraska Atty. Gen. C. S. Beck.

A matter of hours before the new execution date was set, Guy Starkweather, father of the condemned slayer announced he would try to win a writ of habeas corpus from Lancaster County District Court.

At the same time, he disclosed he had telegraphed the United States Supreme Court, asking its intervention in the case.

The case went back to state authorities Thursday after three federal Circuit Court judges turned down his appeal for a writ of habeas corpus. He had appealed to the Circuit Court after the U.S. District Court turned him down.

Tourists Increase

LONDON (AP)—Britain will be getting about one million American tourists a year by 1969, says Ralph T. Reed, president of the American Express Co. The figure is based on the current expansion of the tourist trade here which this year expects 360,000 American visitors.

Reid Sworn In As Envoy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ogden R. Reid was sworn in Friday as U. S. ambassador to Israel—one day after the Senate approved his disputed nomination.

Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy officially welcomed the 33-year-old Reid to "our family here at the Department of State."

Reid responded with thanks to President Eisenhower, the State Department and Murphy for their backing and said he was deeply looking forward to serving the United States in Israel.

Reid, former president and editor of the Nev York Herald Tribune said "we approach the post humbly; we consider it an opportunity to serve the United States." And he said he is eager to meet the people of Israel who he said have raised their living and cultural standards and made other advances in fields such as peaceful use of nuclear and solar energy.

The Senate confirmed Reid by voice vote Thursday after he had been put through some stiff questioning before the Foreign Relations Committee.

Dodge To Offer Smaller Automobile Called Dart

DETROIT (AP) — Dodge division of Chrysler Corp. will offer a new, smaller car to be called the Dart starting with the 1960 model year.

This was confirmed Friday by M. C. Patterson, Chrysler vice president and general manager of Dodge division.

The car will be sold only by Dodge dealers, Patterson said.

This means dealers who have handled both Dodge and Plymouth will drop the Plymouth line.

Plymouths will be continued by Chrysler-Plymouth and DeSoto-Plymouth dealers, as well as exclusive Plymouth dealers.

Patterson made his official announcement at a Dodge dealer meeting in Syracuse, N. Y. It followed a week of authoritative but unofficial speculation.

He said the Dart will have a 118-inch wheelbase, the same as the 1959 Plymouth, instead of the present 122-inch wheelbase used by Dodge. He described the styling as "distinctly different from the other Dodge series and the Plymouth." The 122-inch series will be continued.

Although he gave no specific details on price Patterson called the Dart a complete low-price series which will compete with the other cars in the low price field.

Patterson didn't say so, but it was understood here the Dart will be powered by an engine designed for Chrysler's economy car, the Valiant, which also will be introduced in the fall. This six-cylinder engine with overhead valves will be built in a slightly larger model for the Dart.

In addition to the Valiant, two other new cars have been announced for next fall—the Corvair, with a rear engine, by the Chevrolet division of General Motors, and the Falcon by Ford.

Debate Opens On Strauss Nomination

Sen. Schoeppel Blames Attacks On Senate Liberals

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Andrew F. Schoeppel (R-Kan) Friday blamed attacks on Lewis L. Strauss on liberals who he said would like to see conservatives stuffed under glass in a museum.

Schoeppel opened debate on Strauss' nomination for secretary of commerce after a warning by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas that pressure tactics by either side could backfire.

Schoeppel said he felt it was too late to invite the Senate to consider the nomination "in our traditional mood of calm and objectivity."

He said that many who know and favor Strauss for the post to which President Eisenhower nominated him last Jan. 17 "wonder in amazement at the extent and character of the attack upon him."

Votes Against Strauss

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash), chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee which divided 9-8 for Strauss, took the floor after Schoeppel and said he doesn't believe any senator likes opposing a Cabinet nominee.

"But I don't think anybody's annointed because he's appointed," Magnuson said. He voted against recommending confirmation.

The Senate didn't exactly plunge into debate on Strauss. First it took time to pay some leisurely tributes to President Eisenhower, in connection with the D-Day anniversary, to Gen. George C. Marshall on the 12th anniversary of the Marshall Plan, and to Baron Silvercruys, the Belgian ambassador who is retiring.

Also, Johnson said the Strauss nomination would be laid aside from time to time to consider legislation. On that basis, a vote on the nomination could be days, or weeks, distant.

Pressure To Boomerang

Johnson told reporters, against the background of reports that faked telegrams were sent to a senator, that: "Efforts to pressure the Senate in either direction or to mislead the Senate will certainly boomerang."

Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla) reported Thursday he had received two telegrams urging a vote for Strauss, signed with the names of persons who said later they had not sent them.

Strauss, before taking the Cabinet post last November under a recess appointment, was chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. He also was a desk admiral in World War II.

Minnijean Is Graduated

NEW YORK (AP) — The once disputed high school career of Minnijean Brown reached a calm—and successful—finale Friday.

The pretty, 18-year-old Negro girl from Little Rock, Ark., was graduated from the New Lincoln School here.

"Deck thyself my soul with gladness," she sang along with other members of the school's madrigals chorus.

The ceremonies were a climax to a sometimes harried quest by Minnijean, whose desire to go to an integrated school was thwarted in her home town, but fulfilled in Manhattan.

"I've been very happy here," she said with a smile.

Clad in snowy white dresses and carrying nosegays of roses and pink peonies, she and the other girls in the class of 28 seniors marched into the auditorium to the strains of a Bach processional.

After prayers, a speech and more music, they received their diplomas from Dr. John J. Brooks, director of the private, interracial school.

The school gave Minnijean a scholarship at midsemester last year after she was expelled from Little Rock's Central High School because of name-calling and jostling incidents involving her and white students.

Central and other Little Rock high schools later were closed by Gov. Orval E. Faubus to stop integration. They have remained closed since.

Some 58 children and grown-ups attended the party which had a dozen birthday cakes and gallons of ice cream. Heartbroken Father Offers Aid To His Daughter's Slayer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The grieving father of a slain 3½-year-old daughter offered understanding and help Friday to the 15-year-old honor student who confessed the killing.

Anatol Holt, 31, a mathematics instructor at the University of Pennsylvania, cried out in a letter to the "Dear people of Philadelphia" that they should take better care of their children.

Only hours after the strangled child was found, Holt wrote a 1,300-word letter copyrighted by the Philadelphia Bulletin. He said he was motivated by "an irrepressible wish to contribute my share of understanding to what has taken place in the hope of thus slightly increasing our understanding of one another."

His daughter, Becky, was found stuffed in a toy closet in the basement of the home of her teen-aged slayer, Edward Cooney Jr.

The letter told Philadelphians: "I write to you this morning at the rise of dawn, still in the midst of a tormented wake, the most terrible grief which has ever seared my soul.

"Yesterday afternoon I lost the most precious thing that life ever gave me—a 3½-year-old girl child. She was murdered at three in the afternoon, in the basement of a house only a few doors from ours.

"Had I caught the boy in the act, I would have wished to kill him. Now that there is no undoing of what is done, I only wish to help him. Let no feeling of caveman vengeance influence us. Let us rather help him who did so human a thing."

Holt underlined the word "human," emphasizing that some people do things that are considered bad, but that these are human traits anyway.

Cooney told police of his crime after first confessing to his priest. He led authorities to the closet.

At a brief hearing Friday in the Juvenile Division of Municipal Court, Judge Sydney J. Hoffman ordered a medical and neuropsychiatric examination for Edward, who has been described as a well-adjusted youth.

Then, as if in answer to Holt's plea for more intense child guidance, the judge recommended that the killer's parents undergo a mental examination "to see if we can find out something which may have caused it."

The Cooneys have two older daughters, one a nurse.

Mickey Rooneys Expecting Baby

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mickey Rooney, who reported a secret marriage to his fifth wife two days ago, said Friday they are expecting a baby in October.

"We are very happy about it," the entertainer said by telephone from Las Vegas, where he is appearing. "We're liable to have 15 more. We kind of have an order in for a girl. I already have three boys, you know."

Rooney's other children are Mickey Jr., 13, and Timothy, 12, by Betty Jane Rase; and Teddy, 9, by Martha Vickers. His other wives were Ava Gardner and Elaine Mahnken. The latter divorced him in Santa Monica May 18, but Rooney said he had married starlet Barbara Thomason Dec. 1 after a quickie Mexican divorce.

Air Force Men Begin Voyage Across Ocean

LAS PALMAS, Canary Islands (AP)—The 12-ton American motorboat Saralinda left here Thursday with three U.S. Air Force men turned sailors for an attempt to cross the Atlantic Ocean.

The 42-foot Saralinda arrived here May 30 from the British Isles. The first port of call in the Western Hemisphere is scheduled as Barbados, in the West Indies, then Puerto Rico and finally Florida.

All have chosen this unusual method of traveling home for reassignment from U.S. bases in Britain.

Skipper of the craft is Maj. Howard Reynolds, 38, of Orlando, Fla. Sailing with him were Lt. William R. Sepe, 24, Cranston, R. I., and Sgt. Jack E. Little, 28, Birmingham, Mich.

Speeding Passenger Train Cuts Dynamite Bomb Fuse

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—An expert bomber tried to blow up a speeding Rock Island passenger train Friday by placing a suitcase containing 99 sticks of dynamite on the tracks. He failed because the wheels of the train snuffed out the burning fuse.

The bomber lit the fuse again after the train had passed, but the dynamite failed to ignite even though the fuse burned right up to the cap.

Authorities said the failure of the dynamite to explode was a "once in a million chance."

The Rocky Mountain Rocket was en route from the Colorado Springs Denver area to Chicago. It was carrying 180 passengers and a number of crewmen. The train was made up of 11 passenger and three baggage cars.

The dynamite attempt occurred about one mile east of the city limits in an area sparsley populated.

George Schuik, West Des Moines police chief who did demolition work during World War II, said an "expert" fashioned the suitcase bomb. He said the fuses were "crimped just right".

Harold Clark, fireman on the eastbound train, spotted an object on the tracks as the train went by but was unable to tell what it was. He radioed back to the station here and Trainmster William B. Reese went out to investigate.

Reese saw someone driving away in a car as he arrived on the scene. The fuse had been lit again. He notified police when he saw that the object was a bomb.

Bloody Rioting In Ecuador Comes To End

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador (AP)—People in this Pacific port city returned to normal activities Friday after three days of bloody rioting, the nation's first major outbreak of violence in years.

There seemed little political significance in the street battling, touched off by a feud between an army recruit and his spit-and-polish captain. The rioting left 24 persons dead and 150 injured. More than 450 are under arrest.

A curfew ended Friday morning after a tense night marked by sporadic gunfire, but no reported bloodshed.

But the whole nation remained under martial law declared Wednesday by President Camilo Ponce. He said he was acting to save the republic from anarchy and aggression.

Col. Luis Ricardo Pineiros, whose 5,000 troops are charged with maintaining law and order in Guayaquil, said students were responsible for Tuesday's rioting, but thugs and hoodlums made up most of the mob after that. Students were praised for helping troops in the later stages.

Many here insist local Communists did not seem to exploit the outbreaks — for reasons known only to the Reds. Ponce's office has charged the Communists used the violence for their purposes according to a prepared plan.

Asks Bar On Peers

LONDON (UPI)—The House of Lords called Friday for a rule barring insane peers from its sessions. One member cited an unnamed peer who was found "incapable of managing his own affairs but was free to manage the affairs of the nation."

Beats Down Opposition To Decision

83-Year-Old Leader Won't Make Run For Presidency

BONN, Germany (AP)—Tough-willed Konrad Adenauer beat down an incipient rebellion among his followers Friday and won their approval of his decision to keep the helm of West Germany's government.

It wasn't easy, this justification of his surprise announcement that he is remaining Chancellor and isn't going to run for the presidency after all.

But the 83-year-old leader argued in effect that he is the indispensable man at this juncture of history, not one to be shelved in the largely ceremonial job from which President Theodor Heuss is retiring in September.

Stormy Debate

There were four hours of stormy debate among Parliament members of Adenauer's dominant Christian Democratic party. Qualified informants said about 60 per cent were against the switch, but finally bowed to his decision.

The party secretary, Wil Rasner, told newsmen the vote was then unanimous to back Adenauer's turnabout from his presidential candidacy, announced April 8.

The outcome means Adenauer is set to continue in the chancellorship at least until the 1961 national election, and his party must hustle to find another candidate for president. The new president is due to be elected by a Federal Assembly July 1.

The reaction of some Germans was violent. Opposition leaders declared it was an open power grab.

Uneasy Silence

There was uneasy silence among Western diplomats dickering with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko at Geneva.

They said they could not comment formally because any suggestion of outside interference would cause resentment in Bonn. But it was recalled privately that Adenauer's April decision to move upstairs and clear the way for development of new government leaders was welcomed among Western official experts on Germany.

One of their fears in recent years has been that if death or illness removed Adenauer from office a paralyzing crisis might result from a struggle for the succession in West Germany, one of the strongest members of the North Atlantic Alliance.

Seven Indicted In Arms Plot

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Dominican consul, a Miami policeman, a Tampa flier and four Northern men were federally indicted Friday for conspiracy to smuggle arms to the Dominican Republic.

Prosecutors said they hope to arraign all seven next Friday.

The charges stemmed from seizure May 22 at Miami International Airport of a plane laden with guns and ammunition reportedly destined to help Fulgencio Batista dislodge Fidel Castro, who overthrew Batista's Cuban government. Batista, living in exile in the Dominican Republic, has denied planning such a coup.

Indicted were five persons arrested when the plane was seized, plus two men not previously named.

The latter are Charles Colle, alias Larry Lamarca, of Union, N.J., and Sidney Neubauer, New York lawyer.

The others indicted were Augusto Ferrando, Dominican Republic consul at Miami; Joseph Liquori, Miami policeman; Leonard Trento, Newark, N.J.; Dominic E. Bartone, for whom the district attorney's office listed addresses at Toledo, Ohio, and Cleveland, Ohio; and Samuel E. Poole Jr. of Tampa. Bartone was identified as the plane's agent and Poole as its pilot.

He said that many who know and favor Strauss for the post to which President Eisenhower nominated him last Jan. 17 "wonder in amazement at the extent and character of the attack upon him."

Votes Against Strauss

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash), chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee which divided 9-8 for Strauss, took the floor after Schoeppel and said he doesn't believe any senator likes opposing a Cabinet nominee.

"But I don't think anybody's annointed because he's appointed," Magnuson said. He voted against recommending confirmation.

The Senate didn't exactly plunge into debate on Strauss. First it took time to pay some leisurely tributes to President Eisenhower, in connection with the D-Day anniversary, to Gen. George C. Marshall on the 12th anniversary of the Marshall Plan, and to Baron Silvercruys, the Belgian ambassador who is retiring.

Also, Johnson said the Strauss nomination would be laid aside from time to time to consider legislation. On that basis, a vote on the nomination could be days, or weeks, distant.

Pressure To Boomerang

Johnson told reporters, against the background of reports that faked telegrams were sent to a senator, that: "Efforts to pressure the Senate in either direction or to mislead the Senate will certainly boomerang."

Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla) reported Thursday he had received two telegrams urging a vote for Strauss, signed with the names of persons who said later they had not sent them.

Strauss, before taking the Cabinet post last November under a recess appointment, was chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. He also was a desk admiral in World War II.

Minnijean Is Graduated

NEW YORK (AP) — The once disputed high school career of Minnijean Brown reached a calm—and successful—finale Friday.

The pretty, 18-year-old Negro girl from Little Rock, Ark., was graduated from the New Lincoln School here.

"Deck thyself my soul with gladness," she sang along with other members of the school's madrigals chorus.

The ceremonies were a climax to a sometimes harried quest by Minnijean, whose desire to go to an integrated school was thwarted in her home town, but fulfilled in Manhattan.

"I've been very happy here," she said with a smile.

Clad in snowy white dresses and carrying nosegays of roses and pink peonies, she and the other girls in the class of 28 seniors marched into the auditorium to the strains of a Bach processional.

After prayers, a speech and more music, they received their diplomas from Dr. John J. Brooks, director of the private, interracial school.

The school gave Minnijean a scholarship at midsemester last year after she was expelled from Little Rock's Central High School because of name-calling and jostling incidents involving her and white students.

Central and other Little Rock high schools later were closed by Gov. Orval E. Faubus to stop integration. They have remained closed since.

Five-year-old Debra Boggess smiles for photographer as she plays with her cocker spaniel, Mickey, during her birthday party Thursday. Some 58 children and grown-ups attended the party which had a dozen birthday cakes and gallons of ice cream. The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Boggess, Danville, Ill., didn't mention it, but they know there'll probably never be another wonderful birthday party for Debra, who has inoperable cancer of her lungs.

Heartbroken Father Offers Aid To His Daughter's Slayer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The grieving father of a slain 3½-year-old daughter offered understanding and help Friday to the 15-year-old honor student who confessed the killing.

Anatol Holt, 31, a mathematics instructor at the University of Pennsylvania, cried out in a letter to the "Dear people of Philadelphia" that they should take better care of their children.

Only hours after the strangled child was found, Holt wrote a 1,300-word letter copyrighted by the Philadelphia Bulletin. He said he was motivated by "an irrepressible wish to contribute my share of understanding to what has taken place in the hope of thus slightly increasing our understanding of one another."

His daughter, Becky, was found stuffed in a toy closet in the basement of the home of her teenaged slayer, Edward Cooney Jr.

The letter told Philadelphians: "I write to you this morning at the rise of dawn, still in the midst of a tormented wake, the most terrible grief which has ever seared my soul.

"Yesterday afternoon I lost the most precious thing that life ever gave me—a 3½-year-old girl child. She was murdered at three in the afternoon, in the basement of a house only a few doors from ours.

"Had I caught the boy in the act, I would have wished to kill him. Now that there is no undoing of what is done, I only wish to help him. Let no feeling of caveman vengeance influence us. Let us rather help him who did so human a thing."

Holt underlined the word "human," emphasizing that some people do things that are considered bad, but that these are human traits anyway.

Cooney told police of his crime after first confessing to his priest. He led authorities to the closet.

At a brief hearing Friday in the Juvenile Division of Municipal Court, Judge Sydney J. Hoffman ordered a medical and neuropsychiatric examination for Edward, who has been described as a well-adjusted youth.

Then, as if in answer to Holt's plea for more intense child guidance, the judge recommended that the killer's parents undergo a mental examination "to see if we can find out something which may have caused it."

The Cooneys have two older daughters, one a nurse.

Mickey Rooneys Expecting Baby

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mickey Rooney, who reported a secret marriage to his fifth wife two days ago, said Friday they are expecting a baby in October.

"We are very happy about it," the entertainer said by telephone from Las Vegas, where he is appearing. "We're liable to have 15 more. We kind of have an order in for a girl. I already have three boys, you know."

Rooney's other children are Mickey Jr., 13, and Timothy, 12, by Betty Jane Rase; and Teddy, 9, by Martha Vickers. His other wives were Ava Gardner and Elaine Mahnken. The latter divorced him in Santa Monica May 18, but Rooney said he had married starlet Barbara Thomason Dec. 1 after a quickie Mexican divorce.

Air Force Men Begin Voyage Across Ocean

LAS PALMAS, Canary Islands (AP)—The 12-ton American motorboat Saralinda left here Thursday with three U.S. Air Force men turned sailors for an attempt to cross the Atlantic Ocean.

The 42-foot Saralinda arrived here May 30 from the British Isles. The first port of call in the Western Hemisphere is scheduled as Barbados, in the West Indies, then Puerto Rico and finally Florida.

All have chosen this unusual method of traveling home for reassignment from U.S. bases in Britain.

Skipper of the craft is Maj. Howard Reynolds, 38, of Orlando, Fla. Sailing with him were Lt. William R. Sepe, 24, Cranston, R. I., and Sgt. Jack E. Little, 28, Birmingham, Mich.

Bloody Rioting In Ecuador Comes To End

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador (AP)—People in this Pacific port city returned to normal activities Friday after three days of bloody rioting, the nation's first major outbreak of violence in years.

There seemed little political significance in the street battling, touched off by a feud between an army recruit and his spit-and-polish captain. The rioting left 24 persons dead and 150 injured. More than 450 are under arrest.

A curfew ended Friday morning after a tense night marked by sporadic gunfire, but no reported bloodshed.

But the whole nation remained under martial law declared Wednesday by President Camilo Ponce. He said he was acting to save the republic from anarchy and aggression.

Col. Luis Ricardo Pineiros, whose 5,000 troops are charged with maintaining law and order in Guayaquil, said students were responsible for Tuesday's rioting, but thugs and hoodlums made up most of the mob after that. Students were praised for helping troops in the later stages.

Many here insist local Communists did not seem to exploit the outbreaks — for reasons known only to the Reds. Ponce's office has charged the Communists used the violence for their purposes according to a prepared plan.

Asks Bar On Peers

LONDON (UPI)—The House of Lords called Friday for a rule barring insane peers from its sessions. One member cited an unnamed peer who was found "incapable of managing his own affairs but was free to manage the affairs of the nation."

Speeding Passenger Train Cuts Dynamite Bomb Fuse

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—An expert bomber tried to blow up a speeding Rock Island passenger train Friday by placing a suitcase containing 99 sticks of dynamite on the tracks. He failed because the wheels of the train snuffed out the burning fuse.

The bomber lit the fuse again after the train had passed, but the dynamite failed to ignite even though the fuse burned right up to the cap.

Authorities said the failure of the dynamite to explode was a "once in a million chance."

The Rocky Mountain Rocket was en route from the Colorado Springs Denver area to Chicago. It was carrying 180 passengers and a number of crewmen. The train was made up of 11 passenger and three baggage cars.

The dynamite attempt occurred about one mile east of the city limits in an area sparsley populated.

George Schuik, West Des Moines police chief who did demolition work during World War II, said an "expert" fashioned the suitcase bomb. He said the fuses were "crimped just right".

Harold Clark, fireman on the eastbound train, spotted an object on the tracks as the train went by, but was unable to tell what it was. He radioed back to the station here and Trainmster William B. Reese wept out to investigate.

Reese saw someone driving away in a car as he arrived on the scene. The fuse had been lit again. He notified police when he saw that the object was a bomb.

Beats Down Opposition To Decision

83-Year-Old Leader Won't Make Run For Presidency

BONN, Germany (AP)—Tough-willed Konrad Adenauer beat down an incipient rebellion among his followers Friday and won their approval of his decision to keep the helm of West Germany's government.

It wasn't easy, this justification of his surprise announcement that he is remaining Chancellor and isn't going to run for the presidency after all.

But the 83-year-old leader argued in effect that he is the indispensable man at this juncture of history, not one to be shelved in the largely ceremonial job from which President Theodor Heuss is retiring in September.

Stormy Debate

There were four hours of stormy debate among Parliament members of Adenauer's dominant Christian Democratic party. Qualified informants said about 60 per cent were against the switch, but finally bowed to his decision.

The party secretary, Wil Rasner, told newsmen the vote was then unanimous to back Adenauer's turnabout from his presidential candidacy, announced April 8.

The outcome means Adenauer is set to continue in the chancellorship at least until the 1961 national election, and his party must hustle to find another candidate for president. The new president is due to be elected by a Federal Assembly July 1.

The reaction of some Germans was violent. Opposition leaders declared it was an open power grab.

Uneasy Silence

There was uneasy silence among Western diplomats dickering with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko at Geneva.

They said they could not comment formally because any suggestion of outside interference would cause resentment in Bonn. But it was recalled privately that Adenauer's April decision to move upstairs and clear the way for development of new government leaders was welcomed among Western official experts on Germany.

One of their fears in recent years has been that if death or illness removed Adenauer from office a paralyzing crisis might result from a struggle for the succession in West Germany, one of the strongest members of the North Atlantic Alliance.

Seven Indicted In Arms Plot

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Dominican consul, a Miami policeman, a Tampa flier and four Northern men were federally indicted Friday for conspiracy to smuggle arms to the Dominican Republic.

Prosecutors said they hope to arraign all seven next Friday.

The charges stemmed from seizure May 22 at Miami International Airport of a plane laden with guns and ammunition reportedly destined to help Fulgencio Batista dislodge Fidel Castro, who overthrew Batista's Cuban government. Batista, living in exile in the Dominican Republic, has denied planning such a coup.

Indicted were five persons arrested when the plane was seized, plus two men not previously named.

The latter are Charles Colle, alias Larry Lamarca, of Union, N.J., and Sidney Neubauer, New York lawyer.

The others indicted were Augusto Ferrando, Dominican Republic consul at Miami; Joseph Liquori, Miami policeman; Leonard Trento, Newark, N.J.; Dominic E. Bartone, for whom the district attorney's office listed addresses at Toledo, Ohio, and Cleveland, Ohio; and Samuel E. Poole Jr. of Tampa. Bartone was identified as the plane's agent and Poole as its pilot.

Saturday D-Day 15th Anniversary

By The Associated Press

Saturday is the 15th anniversary of D-Day, when Allied troops invaded France and started a military sweep across Europe that ended 11 months later in the World War II defeat of Nazi Germany.

The first assault troops began wading ashore to the beaches of Normandy at 6:30 a.m., June 6, 1944. Paratroopers had dropped behind the German lines during the night.

Somoza Claims 6-Day Nicaragua Revolt Failing

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (UPI)—President Luis Somoza claimed to have the six-day old revolution under control Friday but the rebels said their strength was growing and they were preparing to march on Managua.

(Rebel radio, monitored in Costa Rica, said the invaders had captured the village of Wiliwili in northern Nicaragua and that villagers and small farmers in the mountain districts were joining their forces. It said rebel units in Leon province were moving to link up with the force in Wiliwili for a "march on Managua."

In Washington, the Organization of American States deferred an immediate on-the-spot investigation. A four-nation OAS investigating committee, established Thursday night, will remain in Washington and ask neighboring states to submit any information pertinent to the situation in Nicaragua.

The committee, headed by Uruguayan Ambassador Julio Lacarte said normal procedure would be to visit the scene but that the trip was put off because "we are in the process of getting information here to determine what further steps to take."

In a press conference Thursday night, Somoza belittled the revolution calling it a "crazy adventure." He said the airborne invaders, who landed in two groups Sunday and Monday, had the "crazy notion" that the Nicaraguan army and air force would defect to them but the armed forces have remained loyal.

The President described the invaders as "young people who want to be Fidel Castro."

DMV Contract Near Approval

BALTIMORE (AP) — A contract to purchase a 13-acre site in Anne Arundel County for a new Department of Motor Vehicles headquarters will come up before the State Board of Public Works Tuesday for final approval.

Gov. Tawes has indicated his one vote of the three on the public works agency will be cast in favor of the $262,000 site on Ritchie Highway near the Harbor Tunnel entrance.

The governor said he didn't see how "we could break faith" on the proposed land purchase.

Andrew Heubeck Jr. board secretary, said the revised contract between the State and the Plantation Realty Co. presumably would be signed at the same session, if approved.

The board agreed to buy the land at its May 4 meeting and the contract subsequently was reviewed and tightened up by the State Law Department.

The proposed purchase of the tract became a center of controversy when it was learned that the State was considering buying the land at more than double the price Plantation Realty paid 17 months earlier.

Baltimore City opponents of the contract argued that the new motor vehicles office should be located in the city as a convenience to a large number of motor vehicle owners.

DMV Cannot Withhold License

BALTIMORE (AP) — A legal opinion by Maryland's attorney general has taken from the Motor Vehicles Department the right to withhold new auto license tags until Baltimore car owners pay up all outstanding traffic fines.

Since 1954, the department has refused to issue new auto tags to Baltimore motorists until they had squared themselves with the traffic courts. If you owed a traffic fine, you didn't get your license until it was paid.

But the attorney general's office, asked for a formal opinion on the question, said there was no law giving the department that right.

At first, there was. But the 1955 General Assembly repealed the law. However, the department has continued the practice.

Over the past five years, 4,104 motorists paid their outstanding fines to get their licenses.

Tawes, Prison Heads Confer On Patuxent

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes Friday scheduled a meeting with the state's top prison and budget officials to determine what should be done to strengthen security at Patuxent Institution, the prison for defective delinquents at Jessup.

Tawes set the meeting for 10 a.m. June 18 in his office here. It stems from a break of 34 inmates from the psychiatric penal institution April 5. All were recaptured.

Dr. Harold M. Boslow, a psychiatrist who serves as director of the institution, said a lack of custodial help was the primary cause.

Gov. Tawes ordered state budget officials to investigate and report what was needed in the way of extra help tp prevent recurrence.

James P. Slicher, chief of the Budget Bureau, reported that the institution had "very adequate personnel" and said that Boslow's failure to fill a vacancy for an authorized assistant superintendent in charge of custody was a major reason.

James W. Curran, superintendent of prisons, in effect supported this finding. Slicher said further that the institution's status in relation to state prison system should be clarified.

The institution was created by a 1951 act of the General Assembly and began operations in 1955. It was the first institution of its kind where delinquents are committed under court orders for indefinite periods and released when in the opinion of officials they are ready to resume a role in society.

Gov. Tawes has summoned to the June 18 meeting G. C. A. Anderson, chairman of the Board of Correction; Dr. Manfred S. Guttmacher, chairman of the Patuxent Institution Advisory Board; Dr. Boslow, Curran, Slicher, Budget Director James G. Rennie and members of their staffs.

O'Donnell To Head Planning Group

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gov Tawes said Friday he plans to appoint James J. O'Donnell as head of the reorganized State Planning Commission.

O'Donnell, director of the Department of Public Improvements, will succeed the present planning commission director, I. Alvin Pasarew.

Pasarew came under fire earlier this year for using a commission employe to perform personal work for him at State expense.

Tawes did not say whom he will select to succeed O'Donnell as head of the public improvements agency.

Mother Given 15 Years For Slaying Spouse

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — Mrs. Margaret Lucille D'Ambrosio, mother of two young children, was convicted Friday of second degree murder in the fatal shooting of her husband.

Baltimore County Circuit Judge John E. Raine Jr. immediately sentenced the 29-year-old brunette to 15 years in prison.

A jury of nine men and three women deliberated for 58 minutes before returning the verdict at the conclusion of a two-day trial.

Mrs. D'Ambrosio was accused of slaying her husband, 32-year-old Miachael D'Ambrosio, a Navy employe at the Martin Co. near Baltimore. The couple lived in nearby Dundalk.

State's Atty. Frank H. Newell III had asked the jury for a finding of first degree murder. The defendant was represented by attorneys John Grason Turnbull and Simon N. Silverberg.

In a statement introduced as evidence, Mrs. D'Ambrosio was quoted as saying she "tightened on" the trigger of the gun that killed her husband last Thanksgiving Day.

According to the statement, the shooting occurred after D'Ambrosio told his wife that he thought he was in love with his office secretary.

She said that after the shooting she drove to a spot near Harbor Field and set fire to some tissue in the car, leaving the body on the front seat.

However, in testimony during the final hours of the trial Mrs. D'Ambrosio denied that she pulled the trigger and said she only made a statement to that effect because "that was what the police wanted to hear."

"I was surprised when the gun went off," she told the court.

Officer Stops Conrad Walk

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Flying grandfather Max Conrad—a hero Thursday when he set a 7,638-mile light-plane record from Africa to California—got picked up by a cop early Friday.

"I don't blame that cop," the lanky, graying San Franciscan said. "I guess I looked like a tramp, or like I had been drinking too much."

Conrad, 56, said it happened along the highway in suburban Corona Del Mar, south of here, when he spent the night—intermittently—in a swank motel.

"I find it's best not to sleep or eat very much after a long flight," the professional plane-ferrier explained. "If I sleep an hour or so, then get up and walk, I find I can snap out of my fatigue much faster.

"I had a peach and cottage cheese salad about 9 p.m., lay down in my room for a couple of hours without my clothes on, then got up to walk the salad off.

"I had to cross the highway—there were no cars coming—when this policeman drove up and asked me what I was doing wandering around at 3 o'clock in the morning.

"He was a little tough at first. Told me to get into his car and asked if I had any identification.

"All I had was my pilot's license. He said, 'A guy by that name just made a long flight. Are you related to him?' I said, 'I happen to be him.'

"So then we had about half an hour of visiting. He wanted to talk about aviation. But I didn't feel up to much talking so I did more walking, went to bed and got up about 7 o'clock."

"I'm caught up now," he said. "I feel fine."

Somoza Claims 6-Day Nicaragua Revolt Failing

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (UPI)—President Luis Somoza claimed to have the six-day old revolution under control Friday but the rebels said their strength was growing and they were preparing to march on Managua.

(Rebel radio, monitored in Costa Rica, said the invaders had captured the village of Wiliwili in northern Nicaragua and that villagers and small farmers in the mountain districts were joining their forces. It said rebel units in Leon province were moving to link up with the force in Wiliwili for a "march on Managua."

In Washington, the Organization of American States deferred an immediate on-the-spot investigation. A four-nation OAS investigating committee, established Thursday night, will remain in Washington and ask neighboring states to submit any information pertinent to the situation in Nicaragua.

The committee, headed by Uruguayan Ambassador Julio Lacarte said normal procedure would be to visit the scene but that the trip was put off because "we are in the process of getting information here to determine what further steps to take."

In a press conference Thursday night, Somoza belittled the revolution calling it a "crazy adventure." He said the airborne invaders, who landed in two groups Sunday and Monday, had the "crazy notion" that the Nicaraguan army and air force would defect to them but the armed forces have remained loyal.

The President described the invaders as "young people who want to be Fidel Castro."

DMV Contract Near Approval

BALTIMORE (AP) — A contract to purchase a 13-acre site in Anne Arundel County for a new Department of Motor Vehicles headquarters will come up before the State Board of Public Works Tuesday for final approval.

Gov. Tawes has indicated his one vote of the three on the public works agency will be cast in favor of the $262,000 site on Ritchie Highway near the Harbor Tunnel entrance.

The governor said he didn't see how "we could break faith" on the proposed land purchase.

Andrew Heubeck Jr. board secretary, said the revised contract between the State and the Plantation Realty Co. presumably would be signed at the same session, if approved.

The board agreed to buy the land at its May 4 meeting and the contract subsequently was reviewed and tightened up by the State Law Department.

The proposed purchase of the tract became a center of controversy when it was learned that the State was considering buying the land at more than double the price Plantation Realty paid 17 months earlier.

Baltimore City opponents of the contract argued that the new motor vehicles office should be located in the city as a convenience to a large number of motor vehicle owners.

DMV Cannot Withhold License

BALTIMORE (AP) — A legal opinion by Maryland's attorney general has taken from the Motor Vehicles Department the right to withhold new auto license tags until Baltimore car owners pay up all outstanding traffic fines.

Since 1954, the department has refused to issue new auto tags to Baltimore motorists until they had squared themselves with the traffic courts. If you owed a traffic fine, you didn't get your license until it was paid.

But the attorney general's office, asked for a formal opinion on the question, said there was no law giving the department that right.

At first, there was. But the 1955 General Assembly repealed the law. However, the department has continued the practice.

Over the past five years, 4,104 motorists paid their outstanding fines to get their licenses.

Radio Moscow Claims Two Records

LONDON (UPI)—Radio Moscow Friday claimed two new world records for a sport in which Communists have a virtual monopoly—pinpoint parachute landings in night jumps. A broadcast monitored here said P. Antonov averaged misses of slightly more than 12 feet from the center of a target circle in two jumps from 3,300 feet P. Brodkin set a new record of about 18 feet from center from the same height.

Tawes, Prison Heads Confer On Patuxent

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes Friday scheduled a meeting with the state's top prison and budget officials to determine what should be done to strengthen security at Patuxent Institution, the prison for defective delinquents at Jessup.

Tawes set the meeting for 10 a.m. June 18 in his office here. It stems from a break of 34 inmates from the psychiatric penal institution April 5. All were recaptured.

Dr. Harold M. Boslow, a psychiatrist who serves as director of the institution, said a lack of custodial help was the primary cause.

Gov. Tawes ordered state budget officials to investigate and report what was needed in the way of extra help tp prevent recurrence.

James P. Slicher, chief of the Budget Bureau, reported that the institution had "very adequate personnel" and said that Boslow's failure to fill a vacancy for an authorized assistant superintendent in charge of custody was a major reason.

James W. Curran, superintendent of prisons, in effect supported this finding. Slicher said further that the institution's status in relation to state prison system should be clarified.

The institution was created by a 1951 act of the General Assembly and began operations in 1955. It was the first institution of its kind where delinquents are committed under court orders for indefinite periods and released when in the opinion of officials they are ready to resume a role in society.

Gov. Tawes has summoned to the June 18 meeting G. C. A. Anderson, chairman of the Board of Correction; Dr. Manfred S. Guttmacher, chairman of the Patuxent Institution Advisory Board; Dr. Boslow, Curran, Slicher, Budget Director James G. Rennie and members of their staffs.

O'Donnell To Head Planning Group

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gov Tawes said Friday he plans to appoint James J. O'Donnell as head of the reorganized State Planning Commission.

O'Donnell, director of the Department of Public Improvements, will succeed the present planning commission director, I. Alvin Pasarew.

Pasarew came under fire earlier this year for using a commission employe to perform personal work for him at State expense.

Tawes did not say whom he will select to succeed O'Donnell as head of the public improvements agency.

Mother Given 15 Years For Slaying Spouse

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — Mrs. Margaret Lucille D'Ambrosio, mother of two young children, was convicted Friday of second degree murder in the fatal shooting of her husband.

Baltimore County Circuit Judge John E. Raine Jr. immediately sentenced the 29-year-old brunette to 15 years in prison.

A jury of nine men and three women deliberated for 58 minutes before returning the verdict at the conclusion of a two-day trial.

Mrs. D'Ambrosio was accused of slaying her husband, 32-year-old Miachael D'Ambrosio, a Navy employe at the Martin Co. near Baltimore. The couple lived in nearby Dundalk.

State's Atty. Frank H. Newell III had asked the jury for a finding of first degree murder. The defendant was represented by attorneys John Grason Turnbull and Simon N. Silverberg.

In a statement introduced as evidence, Mrs. D'Ambrosio was quoted as saying she "tightened on" the trigger of the gun that killed her husband last Thanksgiving Day.

According to the statement, the shooting occurred after D'Ambrosio told his wife that he thought he was in love with his office secretary.

She said that after the shooting she drove to a spot near Harbor Field and set fire to some tissue in the car, leaving the body on the front seat.

However, in testimony during the final hours of the trial Mrs. D'Ambrosio denied that she pulled the trigger and said she only made a statement to that effect because "that was what the police wanted to hear."

"I was surprised when the gun went off," she told the court.

Officer Stops Conrad Walk

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Flying grandfather Max Conrad—a hero Thursday when he set a 7,638-mile light-plane record from Africa to California—got picked up by a cop early Friday.

"I don't blame that cop," the lanky, graying San Franciscan said. "I guess I looked like a tramp, or like I had been drinking too much."

Conrad, 56, said it happened along the highway in suburban Corona Del Mar, south of here, when he spent the night—intermittently—in a swank motel.

"I find it's best not to sleep or eat very much after a long flight," the professional plane-ferrier explained. "If I sleep an hour or so, then get up and walk, I find I can snap out of my fatigue much faster.

"I had a peach and cottage cheese salad about 9 p.m., lay down in my room for a couple of hours without my clothes on, then got up to walk the salad off.

"I had to cross the highway—there were no cars coming—when this policeman drove up and asked me what I was doing wandering around at 3 o'clock in the morning.

"He was a little tough at first. Told me to get into his car and asked if I had any identification.

"All I had was my pilot's license. He said, 'A guy by that name just made a long flight. Are you related to him?' I said, 'I happen to be him.'

"So ther we had about half an hour of visiting. He wanted to talk about aviation. But I didn't feel up to much talking so I did more walking, went to bed and got up about 7 o'clock."

"I'm caught up now," he said. "I feel fine."

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

June Brides

As my contribution to your bridal enchantment I am passing on some Powers Girls bridal beauty aids.

You can't help but be beautiful in your elegant gown and shining surroundings. Just your happiness alone will create a radiance around you. But your elegant gown and the setting require makeup that is strictly bridal. I'll tell you why: The white or pastel fabric of your wedding dress will intensify your personal coloring. Since the darker cosmetics you regularly use will look sharp — even hard—with your bridal ensemble, choose your foundation, powder, rouge and lipstick one or two tones lighter than you usually wear. Select your cosmetics long before your wedding day.

If you are a brunette, a white or light dress will create the illusion that your skin, hair and eyes are even darker than they actually are. For this reason you'll want your base and powder to be delicate enough in shade to give your skin a more fragile quality.

You who are blonde or Titian, will find that these light dress colors will make your skin seem fairer and your hair more golden. You'll want your base and powder stepped down to match the alabaster appearance of your skin.

As for lipstick and rouge, it is now plain to see why dark shades will stand out harshly against the light gown. Brunettes, choose a light coral rouge and lipstick. Blondes, select a pinky shade. Coral or pink for Titians—dependent on the color tones of your hair. If your hair is on the bright side, coral is for you. Chestnut? Try the pink tones.

This method of cosmetic selection will not only enhance your loveliness on your wedding day, but it will make your wedding picture a thing of joy forever. The lighter make-up insures natural, soft-looking photographs. This is the picture of you you'll both cherish forever and always!

Firemen's Auxiliary Plans County Picnic In August

Mrs. Maude Kirk, first president of the Allegany-Garrett Counties Ladies Auxiliary of Volunteer Firemen's Association, welcomed members and guests to the annual convention of the group Wednesday at Barton. Mrs. Frances Comp, Deer Park, president, presided.

A roll call of officers showed all 14 officers of the auxiliary attending; 17 auxiliaries represented; 96 members attending. Four state officers and 12 past presidents were guests. Also guests were four members of the newly formed auxiliary of Oldtown.

Minutes from the previous convention and executive meetings were read. Two guests from the Firemen Association, Francis Fatkin, Clarysville, president and Howard Springer, Havre de Grace, state president, gave brief talks. Reports by the treasurer, Anne Stakem, Midland; other officers and various committees were read. Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

June Brides

As my contribution to your bridal enchantment I am passing on some Powers Girls bridal beauty aids.

You can't help but be beautiful in your elegant gown and shining surroundings. Just your happiness alone will create a radiance around you. But your elegant gown and the setting require makeup that is strictly bridal. I'll tell you why: The white or pastel fabric of your wedding dress will intensify your personal coloring. Since the darker cosmetics you regularly use will look sharp — even hard—with your bridal ensemble, choose your foundation, powder, rouge and lipstick one or two tones lighter than you usually wear. Select your cosmetics long before your wedding day.

If you are a brunette, a white or light dress will create the illusion that your skin, hair, and eyes are even darker than they actually are. For this reason you'll want your base and powder to be delicate enough in shade to give your skin a more fragile quality.

You who are blonde or Titian, will find that these light dress colors will make your skin seem fairer and your hair more golden. You'll want your base and powder stepped down to match the alabaster appearance of your skin.

As for lipstick and rouge, it is now plain to see why dark shades will stand out harshly against the light gown. Brunettes, choose a light coral rouge and lipstick. Blondes, select a pinky shade. Coral or pink for Titians—dependent on the color tones of your hair. If your hair is on the bright side, coral is for you. Chestnut? Try the pink tones.

This method of cosmetic selection will not only enhance your loveliness on your wedding day, but it will make your wedding picture a thing of joy forever. The lighter make-up insures natural, soft-looking photographs. This is the picture of you you'll both cherish forever and always!

Governor Emphasizes Role Of Educators

Tawes Speaks To Graduates At Frostburg

Encourages Class Of New Teachers

FROSTBURG — "We must rearrange our values of life in such a way as to induce men and women to cherish learning and wisdom above everything else," Gov. J. Millard Tawes told the graduating class of Frostburg State Teachers College.

Addressing 101 seniors and 18 junior college graduates, he stated that more than money is needed to improve education in Maryland.

"Scholarship must be elevated to the position of eminence it inevitably occupies in any civilized society," he added.

Tools Are Needed

Tawes made sure he would not be misunderstood on the money angle.

"I would not for a moment question the efficacy of money in any scheme or program for the education of the people," he said.

"You must be given the tools with which to work — the classrooms, the laboratories, the libraries . . .

"You must be paid a salary that is adequate to support you and your family in a manner in keeping with your position in the community," he said.

Must Get Reward

Tawes told the new teachers that "it is a terrible duty which you must perform, and those of us who assign you the major part of the responsibility must take it upon ourselves to see that you are rewarded."

"We must encourage a respect and understanding of the dignity, honor and high purpose of your profession . . . ," he added.

The Governor said a report made recently by President Eisenhower's Science Advisory Committee showed America "must move—and move fast—in the field of education if we expect our ideas and our institutions to survive in the Armageddon-like conflict with world Communism."

He noted the report emphasized a need for a greater investment of money in education and a revised curriculum, and he said it indicated the country "finally is facing up to the problem, calmly and realistically."

Churchmen Seek Special Projects Of $3 Million

Rev. Dr. Crowson Named Delegate

BUCKHANNON, W. Va. (UPI) — A special study commission of the annual Methodist conference recommended Friday an expenditure of nearly $3,000,000 for special projects in the four years starting in 1960.

Dr. Frank L. Shaffer, Fairmont District superintendent, who headed the commission, said it was "the most far - reaching program" every suggested by the church. If adopted in its entirety it would mean an expenditure of about $2,400,000 more than the $600,000 allocated for the four - year period ending this year.

Shaffer's committee was authorized by the conference to spend the next year in developing details of the program. An appropriation of $5,000 for professional help in the work was granted.

The new four - year program would have as its goal an attempt to meet the moral, social and spiritual needs of the people of West Virginia and the church throughout the world.

It called for an extension of mission and churches in rapidly developing industrial areas of the state, a realignment of church circuits and consolidation of hundreds of small churches, and additional financial assistance for congregations in an effort to obtain stronger leadership.

The proposed program also called for an expansion of $2,200,000 in improvements to West Virginia Wesleyan College. Included would be erection of a new science hall, chapel and funds for increased operating expenses. These expenditures were separate from the $1,000,000 men's residence hall approved by the male lay leaders of the conference on Thursday.

The commission said there were between 25 and 40 areas in the state where new churches should be built. These would serve population groups ranging from 3,000 to 10,000.

The conference voted to authorize its board of hospitals and homes to acquire and operate the Morris Memorial Hospital in Milton as a home for the aged. The hospital was originally built with government funds at a cost of $3,300,000. It is now operated by the state as a hospital for children suffering from polio. Present plans call for it to be in use by next year.

Six delegates were announced for the quadrennial meeting of the general Methodist Church in Denver April, 1960. They are Dr. L. H. Burns, Clarksburg; Dr. J. C. Jarvis, Fairmont, Dr. L. E. Crowson, Piedmont, and Dr. T. W. Potter, Dr. A. E. Bennett, and Dr. Leonard Riggleman, all of Charleston.

The Rev. Fred Oxendale, Richwood, chairman of board of evangelism, reported that the population of West Virginia declined 1.8 per cent during the past eight years and the membership of the Methodist church was down 3.8 per cent.

Oxendale blamed the loss partly on tightening of membership regulations.

Both youths have brothers serving in the Navy. Vorce's brother, Frank Reed, enlisted in July 1958 and is now aboard ship. Ralph's brother, Robert Faidley, enlisted in August 1958 and is now attending school at Bainbridge.

The two youths have enlisted for a minority period and will be discharged on their twenty-first birthday. They were sent to the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. for nine weeks recruit training.

City Workers Are Advised On New Law

Details on a new state law which provides survivors' benefits for the spouses of members of the State Employees' Retirement System who are 60 or over, or who have completed 30 years of service have been supplied to city department heads by City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson.

The benefits result from the passage of Senate Bill 413, which became effective on June 1.

The law provides that a member who is eligible for retirement but continues to work has the privilege of electing to have his spouse receive a monthly allowance, in lieu of a death benefit, should he die in active service.

Eligible workers may choose one of two options which provide monthly allowances during the spouse's lifetime which are the actuarial equivalent of the worker's death benefit.

The death benefit which used to be the only choice, included the employe's contribution and a death benefit based on service.

A worker may choose another option at the time he retires.

C. Eugene Mason, recreation director, said the pool attracted 741 swimmers on its Memorial Day opening and about 550 on Sunday.

State Asks County To Take Titles

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners was asked yesterday to assume title to the 21 cars used by the County Health Department on July 1, 1960.

A letter from Clemens W. Gaines, chief of the Bureau of Management of the State Department of Health, stated that when the Case Formula of financing local health services was instituted some year ago, the State Board of Public Works approved the transfer of title of all equipment to the counties. But this was not applied to the motor vehicles because the cost of operating the fleet on a centralized basis was markedly less than if operated on a county basis.

The state operated the fleet of cars on an annual renewal basis and the replacement cost was less than $100, this made the cost of operating the cars three cents a mile.

Since the change in bidding policy on the part of the manufacturers, the replacement cost has increased to about $450 per car, on a three-year replacement basis.

Gaines said the state agency feels that there is no longer any measurable economy in operating the fleet on a centralized state basis.

This is why the county is being asked to assume title to the cars by July 1, 1960, Gaines stated. The maintenance and other costs of the cars for public health purposes would be on a matching basis between the state and county.

Commissioner William A. Wilson said the matter should be deferred until the board meets with the county commissioners of Garrett and Washington counties here sometime this month. Commissioner John Tucker Mason, who was acting board president today in the absence of Commissioner John J. Rowan, said he also feels the matter should be held for further study.

Barnett Gets LaVale Post

Lee C. Barnett Jr., LaVale Court, yesterday was appointed by the Board of Allegany County Commissioners to fill the unexpired term of Leslie J. Clark on the LaVale Zoning Board.

Clark, who was elected to a six-year term in November, resigned in January when he became attorney to the county commissioners.

The other members of the two-year-old zoning board are C. A. Lancaster, chairman, and Theodore P. Foote, secretary.

Barnett received his bachelor of arts and bachelor of laws degrees from the University of Maryland, the latter being awarded in 1952.

He has practiced law in Cumberland since 1955 and recently a brother, Paul W. Barnett, Woodlawn, LaVale, joined him in his law office.

Barnett was graduated from Beall High School in 1942 and served in the Army from 1943 to 1946, seeing service in the European theatre. He is married and has one daughter

Drivers Must Re-register For Auto Licenses

BALTIMORE (AP) — If your last name starts with H, I, J or K and drive a car, you must re-register your driving license by June 30. Otherwise, you must take your test and pay the $3.50 fee all over again.

Commissioner John R. Jewell of the Motor Vehicles Department said Friday that if those persons had not received their applications for re-registration, they should write the department immediately.

JOHN M. VOCKE

Vocke To Get Business Degree

John M. Vocke, son of Mrs. Elizabeth G. Vocke, 210 Bedford Street, will receive his bachelor of science degree in business administration Sunday at Duquesne University in Pittsburgh.

A 1951 graduate of LaSalle High School, Vocke majored in accounting at Duquesne.

After completing his junior year, he entered the Air Force in 1954 and served for four years, the latter two years in England and Germany, before being released in May of last year.

His military assignments included duty as an accounting specialist with the Comptroller, Budget and Accounting Division, Strategic Air Command, and as an auditing technician with the auditor general.

He was a member of the Student Accounting Association, the Society for the Advancement of Management and the Veterans Association on the Duquesne campus.

Harry Kauffman Head Of LaVale Sanitary Unit

Harry Kauffman Thursday was elected chairman of the LaVale Sanitary Commission succeeding William D. Claus whose term expired.

At the meeting in the LaVale Fire Hall, A. A. Vickers officially took over the board membership vacated by Claus. Vickers is an engineer with the U. S. Geological Survey.

Claus served on the commission since November 24, 1950, while Kauffman has been on the board since May 13, 1949.

The other member of the commission which operates LaVale's water supply is Chester A. Fisher.

The commission ordered Whitman, Requardt and Associates, Baltimore engineering firm, to proceed immediately with the engineering study for a plan for sewage disposal for the LaVale area.

The funds to cover the survey expenses have been furnished by the U. S. Housing and Home Finance Agency.

The survey will cost $2,500 and the commission instructed Whitman, Requardt to expedite the study and complete it as soon as possible.

The sanitary commission is under an order of the State Board of Health to proceed with a survey of the sewage situation of the LaVale area. This would be preliminary to the installation of a complete sewage system.

Attending the meeting were Alex Buchanan, National Highway, a resident of the Narrows Park section, who discussed the sanitary commission taking over the cost of a new sanitary sewer along the north side of Route 40 between Park Heights and Long.

The commission informed Buchanan that in view of the fact the survey will be started immediately by the engineering firm, it feels it should not go ahead without professional advice.

The sewer line in question is in the path of widening Route 40 between those two points and construction has been halted until the matter is cleared.

However, in the event any other group or governmental body or group of persons would finance the new line, the sanitary commission would reimburse those bearing the cost when the overall sewage system plan is placed into effect.

Also attending the meeting was Mrs. Florence Whitworth, chairman of the LaVale Civic Improvement Association's sewage and water committee.

Gaines said the state agency feels that there is no longer any measurable economy in operating the fleet on a centralized state basis.

This is why the county is being asked to assume title to the cars by July 1, 1960, Gaines stated. The maintenance and other costs of the cars for public health purposes would be on a matching basis between the state and county.

Commissioner William A. Wilson said the matter should be deferred until the board meets with the county commissioners of Garrett and Washington counties here sometime this month. Commissioner John Tucker Mason, who was acting board president today in the absence of Commissioner John J. Rowan, said he also feels the matter should be held for further study.

Barnett Gets LaVale Post

Lee C. Barnett Jr., LaVale Court, yesterday was appointed by the Board of Allegany County Commissioners to fill the unexpired term of Leslie J. Clark on the LaVale Zoning Board.

Clark, who was elected to a six-year term in November, resigned in January when he became attorney to the county commissioners.

The other members of the two-year-old zoning board are C. A. Lancaster, chairman, and Theodore P. Foote, secretary.

Barnett received his bachelor of arts and bachelor of laws degrees from the University of Maryland, the latter being awarded in 1952.

He has practiced law in Cumberland since 1955 and recently a brother, Paul W. Barnett, Woodlawn, LaVale, joined him in his law office.

Barnett was graduated from Beall High School in 1942 and served in the Army from 1943 to 1946, seeing service in the European theatre. He is married and has one daughter.

Drivers Must Re-register For Auto Licenses

BALTIMORE (AP) — If your last name starts with H, I, J or K and drive a car, you must re-register your driving license by June 30. Otherwise, you must take your test and pay the $3.50 fee all over again.

Commissioner John R. Jewell of the Motor Vehicles Department said Friday that if those persons had not received their applications for re-registration, they should write the department immediately.

JOHN M. VOCKE

Vocke To Get Business Degree

John M. Vocke, son of Mrs. Elizabeth G. Vocke, 210 Bedford Street, will receive his bachelor of science degree in business administration Sunday at Duquesne University in Pittsburgh.

A 1951 graduate of LaSalle High School, Vocke majored in accounting at Duquesne.

After completing his junior year, he entered the Air Force in 1954 and served for four years, the latter two years in England and Germany, before being released in May of last year.

His military assignments included duty as an accounting specialist with the Comptroller, Budget and Accounting Division, Strategic Air Command, and as an auditing technician with the auditor general.

He was a member of the Student Accounting Association, the Society for the Advancement of Management and the Veterans Association on the Duquesne campus.

Harry Kauffman Head Of LaVale Sanitary Unit

Harry Kauffman Thursday was elected chairman of the LaVale Sanitary Commission succeeding William D. Claus whose term expired.

At the meeting in the LaVale Fire Hall, A. A. Vickers officially took over the board membership vacated by Claus. Vickers is an engineer with the U. S. Geological Survey.

Claus served on the commission since November 24, 1950, while Kauffman has been on the board since May 13, 1949.

The other member of the commission which operates LaVale's water supply is Chester A. Fisher.

The commission ordered Whitman, Requardt and Associates, Baltimore engineering firm, to proceed immediately with the engineering study for a plan for sewage disposal for the LaVale area.

The funds to cover the survey expenses have been furnished by the U. S. Housing and Home Finance Agency.

The survey will cost $2,500 and the commission instructed Whitman, Requardt to expedite the study and complete it as soon as possible.

The sanitary commission is under an order of the State Board of Health to proceed with a survey of the sewage situation of the LaVale area. This would be preliminary to the installation of a complete sewage system.

Attending the meeting were Alex Buchanan, National Highway, a resident of the Narrows Park section, who discussed the sanitary commission taking over the cost of a new sanitary sewer along the north side of Route 40 between Park Heights and Long.

The commission informed Buchanan that in view of the fact the survey will be started immediately by the engineering firm, it feels it should not go ahead without professional advice.

The sewer line in question is in the path of widening Route 40 between those two points and construction has been halted until the matter is cleared.

However, in the event any other group or governmental body or group of persons would finance the new line, the sanitary commission would reimburse those bearing the cost when the overall sewage system plan is placed into effect.

Also attending the meeting was Mrs. Florence Whitworth, chairman of the LaVale Civic Improvement Association's sewage and water committee.

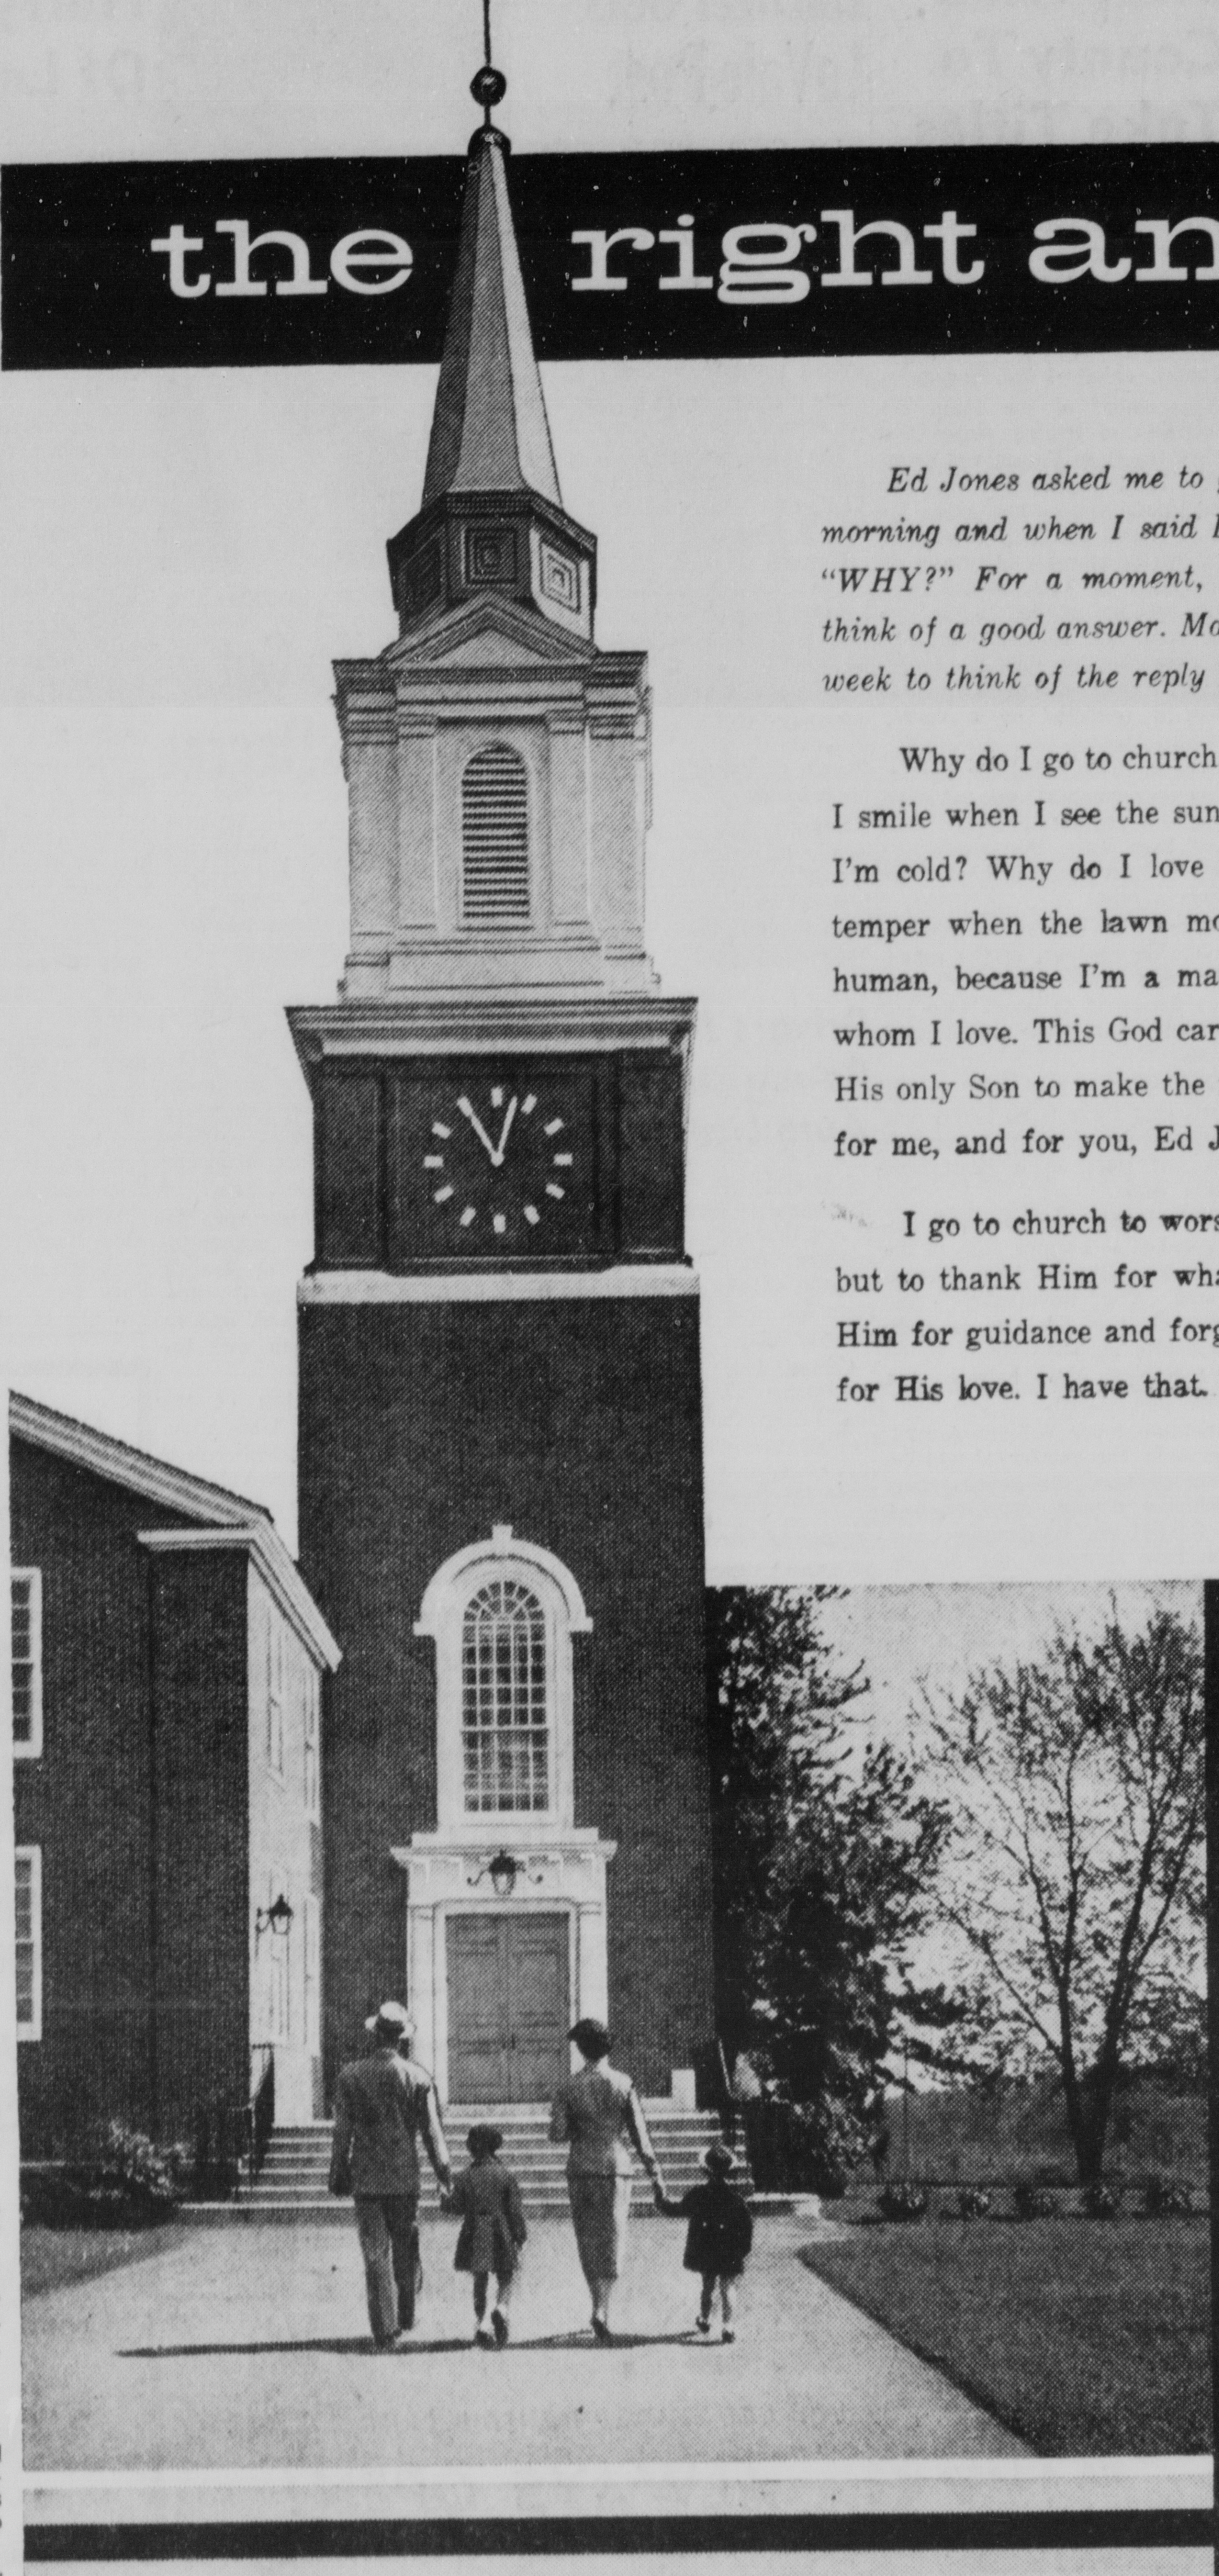
the right answer



Ed Jones asked me to go fishing with him last Sunday morning and when I said I was going to church he asked, "WHY?" For a moment, I was stymied. I just couldn't think of a good answer. Matter of fact, it has taken me all week to think of the reply I want to give Ed. Here it is.

Why do I go to church, Ed? Why do I breathe? Why do I smile when I see the sun in the morning, or shiver when I'm cold? Why do I love my wife and kids, and lose my temper when the lawn mower breaks down? Because I'm human, because I'm a man — and because I have a God whom I love. This God cares enough about me to have sent His only Son to make the most supreme of all sacrifices — for me, and for you, Ed Jones, and for all of us.

I go to church to worship that God. I do not go to beg, but to thank Him for what He has given me. I go to ask Him for guidance and forgiveness. I don't have to ask Him for His love. I have that. So have you. So have we all.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

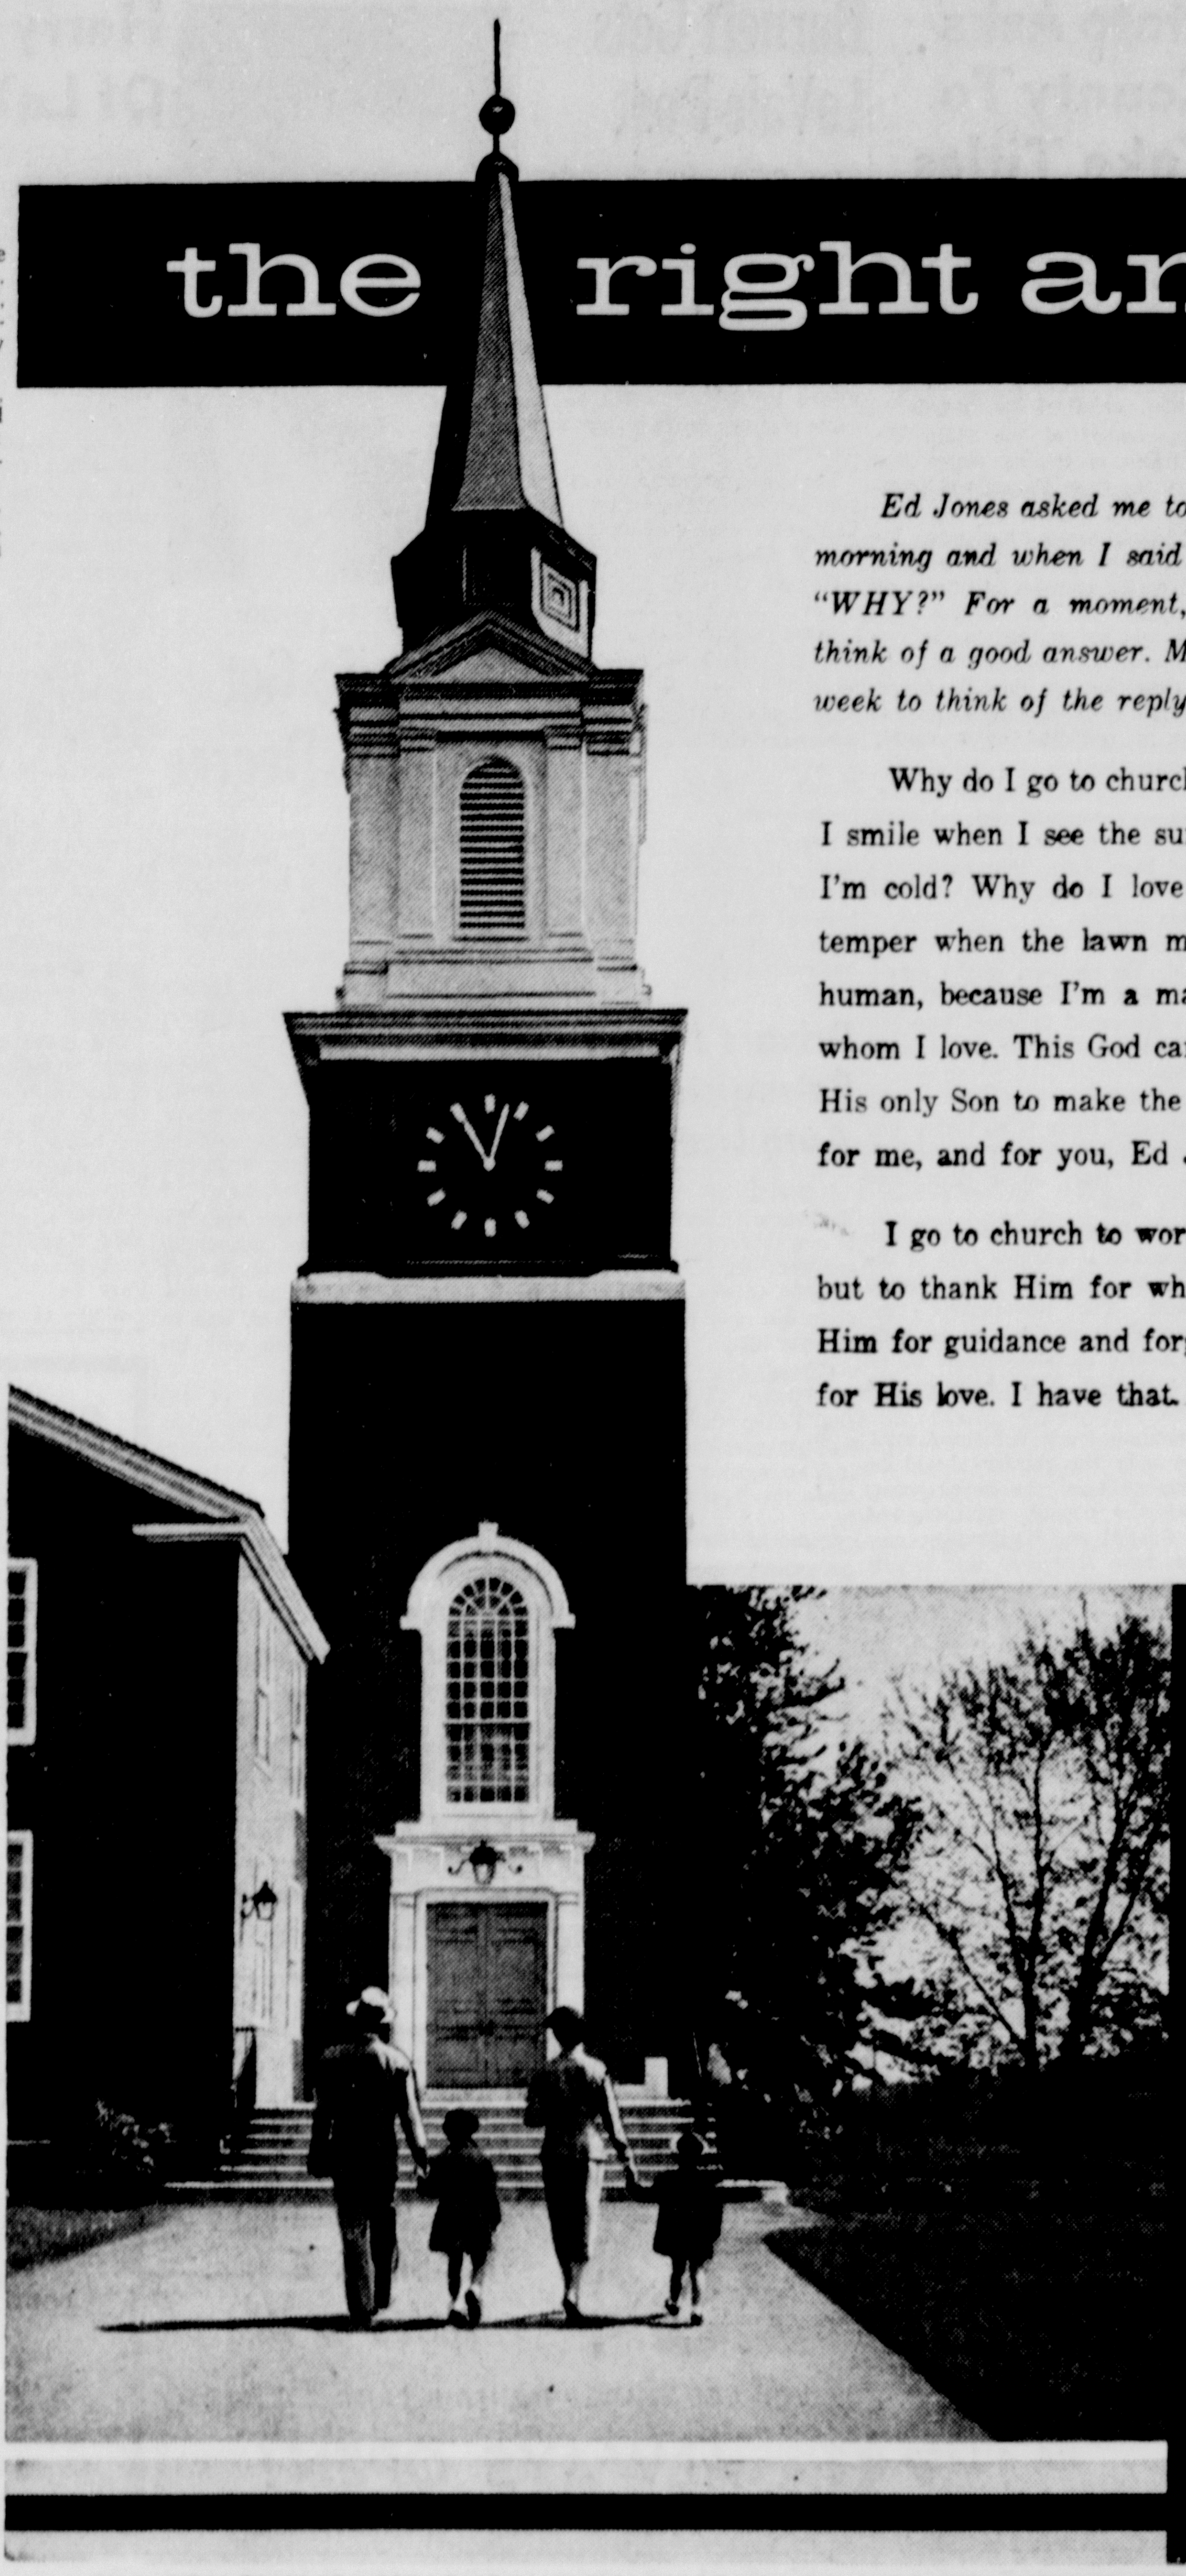
the right answer



Ed Jones asked me to go fishing with him last Sunday morning and when I said I was going to church he asked, "WHY?" For a moment, I was stymied. I just couldn't think of a good answer. Matter of fact, it has taken me all week to think of the reply I want to give Ed. Here it is.

Why do I go to church, Ed? Why do I breathe? Why do I smile when I see the sun in the morning, or shiver when I'm cold? Why do I love my wife and kids, and lose my temper when the lawn mower breaks down? Because I'm human, because I'm a man — and because I have a God whom I love. This God cares enough about me to have sent His only Son to make the most supreme of all sacrifices — for me, and for you, Ed Jones, and for all of us.

I go to church to worship that God. I do not go to beg, but to thank Him for what He has given me. I go to ask Him for guidance and forgiveness. I don't have to ask Him for His love. I have that. So have you. So have we all.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

America's Most Dangerous War

There is a tendency among Americans to gauge the nature of the Communist threat to the United States in terms of the familiar ideas of the past—the threat of war, of espionage, of subversion. This may be a mistake.

The menace of nuclear war does hang over the world. If the Russians were encouraged by weakened Western defenses, or if someone miscalculated, war might come. But the Russians know that a nuclear war would be a suicidal undertaking, with no victors, and they want victory.

It is doubtful, too, that they aim to win primarily through espionage and subversion and propaganda. Such methods are a part of any war, hot or cold, but the Communists' own experience has shown them that they are only tactical tools in support of a larger strategy. And their larger strategy is the complex of skirmishes against weak points that has come to be known as the cold war.

Singapore is a front in the cold war. There the fellow-traveling People's Action Party has just won 43 of the 51 seats in the Assembly. Two-thirds of Singapore's population is of Chinese stock, mostly non-Communist but inclined to be opportunistic toward whatever government rules the Chinese mainland.

Working through this party, the tightly organized Communists have infiltrated schools, unions and now the government itself. They are stepping up the pressure in Singapore. The more successful they are the more pressure they can put on neighboring Malaya.

If the Communists can score enough gains in enough different places, in skirmishes like these, they hope to inundate Asia and eventually the whole world. These operations are a species of war — the most dangerous war the United States has ever been engaged in.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Financing Of Education

It has become customary for American vistiors to Soviet Russia on their return to the United States to speak of how much the Russians spend on education and how little the United States spends. If we take the figures, the United States spends more on education than any people on Earth.

But we are a free people. Our universities are not government institutions, preaching a doctrine which is favored by those who are temporarily in power. We have throughout our history preferred to pay for our own education, particularly on the college and university level. There are also some excellent state colleges and universities.

I have before me some figures which I believe to be reliably compiled, which show that for the year 1957-8, colleges and universities, private and state, had an income of $3,579,730,565. Of this enormous amount $904,328,867 or about 25 per cent came from tuitions and fees; $1,751,703,096 from support of various governments, mostly state but including special Federal contractual arrangements. This came to about 49 per cent of the total. Other sources were gifts and grants, endowment earnings, etc. Endowment earnings upon which the better institutions depended in the past, amounted to only 4.6 per cent of the total, which is very small indeed.

The Council for Financial Aid to Education estimates that for the year 1969-70, education will require about $9,000,000,000, because of the increasing population and the higher cost of everything. The figure may mean something or nothing depending upon the value of our currency. If, for instance, the American dollar at that time is worth 24 cents, $7,000,000,000 plus will be of the same value as the figures for 1957-58. Comparative figures involving currency always have to be recalculated on the basis of the value of currency at different times.

However we look at it, the cost of higher education will increase and it is not expected that tuition fees will pay for it. At best, the student pays about 25 per cent of the cost of his education. Even this amount comes high in the family budget. When two or three children in a family are at college at the same time, the load could be unbearable.

This is particularly true if the better students are involved. For they will take an additional course or seminar, stay longer at college to get an M.A. or a Ph.D. or go to a professional school.

The heavy load that capable students carry at the better colleges precludes any serious outside work. Of course, students who take phony courses have plenty of time to do outside work. And there are always plenty of phony courses and plenty of phony students. But as the cost of education rises and the need for smart boys and girls grows increasingly urgent, there will be increasingly less room for the phony student at college. Usually, he will be dropped by the sophomore year. In fact, it is an economic waste to keep even a C student at college; as for those who average under C, there is no justification for keeping a chair warm for him or her. Certainly with education costing what it does, only very rich parents and very badly administered colleges will bother with dopes.

American faculties are not always of the soundest. A professor who marks favorably because a student agrees with his point of view in courses which involve analysis and interpretation is an intellectual robber. Too many independent students are marked down, particularly in the social science courses, because they reach different conclusions from the instructors, although their own conclusions give evidence of hard work, a knowledge of the subject, and a capacity to think. Really smart students, while holding independent views, repeat the instructor's conclusions although regarding them as erroneous.

Such students have been taught that to advance in this world, one must flatter and lie. It is a very bad business. Truly great men do not need flattery or agreement. They appreciate originality.

What must come, during the next decade, is a complete reorientation of our system of university education so that it prepares the mind of the student for honest and original thinking. Some of the so-called disciplines may disappear as fruitless plays on words. More and more the university will be a place to acquire knowledge and the skill to use it and less and less a social center.

United Steelworkers Are Ready To Walk Out At End Of Month

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Word has gone out to the nation's steelworkers to be ready to walk off the job at the end of this month. All that remains is formal ratification of a strike by the union's wage policy committee.

At least one wildcat strike has already been reported by Jones and Laughlin, though the news was kept out of the papers. Their Chicago plant was emptied for one afternoon until the union persuaded the workers to go back to their jobs.

Meanwhile, White House aides have advised the steel companies that President Eisenhower won't intervene in the strike unless the national security is threatened. This suits the steel tycoons who have stockpiled enough steel to last three to four months.

Brass Hat Lobbyists

Congressman Alfred Santangelo, who represents part of the teeming island of Manhattan, has introduced an amendment to the Defense Appropriations Act which could save the taxpayers a lot of money. The Democratic Congressman wants to bar defense contracts to any company which is employing a retired general or admiral who has been out of the service for less than five years.

The Congressman figures that when a retired admiral or general goes back to the Pentagon to talk to his former subordinates, he has a favorite position in winning billion-dollar contracts. And with most big defense contracts let on a noncompetitive, cost-plus basis, there is more favoritism in the Pentagon than in Tammany Hall.

The list of retired Army, Air Force and naval officers working for big corporations reads almost like the membership of the Army-Navy Club. It will be interesting to see what the budget-balancing administration does about Congressman Santangelo's amendment.

Note—On the Senate side, Illinois' Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas has demanded a list of all retired officers who work for the 100 biggest defense contractors. He points out that 95 per cent of defense contracts are awarded without competitive bidding. Many of the military men who hand out these multimillion-dollar contracts later go to work for the companies they favored.

Unanswered Letter

There's a very important, relatively unanswered letter tucked away in the voluminous Senate hearings on Admiral Strauss. It hasn't made headlines and won't. But its subject will bring worry to every mother. For it concerns the vital question of what radioactive fallout may do to her children.

The charge has been made by ex-commissioner Tom Murray of the AEC that Strauss didn't want the public to realize the danger from fallout. And at the conclusion of the Senate hearings, Warren Magnuson of Washington wrote Strauss a letter asking him point-blank if he had prevented professor H. J. Muller of Indiana University, noted authority on radioactive fallout, from reading a paper on this subject at Geneva in 1955.

"When Dr. Muller appeared at the Geneva sessions," Senator Magnuson wrote, "he was invited to take part in the discussions, but, immediately before the session, was advised that he could not speak. . . Dr. Muller's paper was withdrawn.

"Since Dr. Muller had published an article . . . differing from the official position of the Atomic Energy Commission, there is some ground for inference that the commission was motivated by a desire to prevent the expression of such a contrary view.

"I wish you would advise the committee what, if any, part you had in this matter," concluded Magnuson.

In a press conference following the censoring of Dr. Muller at Geneva, Strauss had said he accepted full responsibility. But in answering Magnuson's recent letter, the would-be Secretary of Commerce wrote: "I have no record on this subject and would have to rely on records of the Atomic Energy Commission."

Note—Strauss was one of Ike's advisers who urged him to reverse Adlai Stevenson's proposal for a suspension of H-Bomb testing, if Russia would agree. Eisenhower did so and denounced Stevenson, but is now negotiating with Russia for exactly what was proposed in October 1956.

Washington Pipeline

Democratic candidates for President are giving each other the after-you-Alphonse treatment. Though Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota is one of the top farm experts in the nation, he bowed to Stuart Symington of Missouri when it came to investigating the Agriculture Department. He let Symington become chairman. Said Symington: "I'm certainly honored to have Hubert sit on my committee." . . . Rugged Sen. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma, speaking on the Soviet economic challenge in Washington, got a question from the floor on an entirely different subject. It read: "Will Governor Edmonson of Oklahoma run against Sen. Bob Kerr in 1960?" Replied Monroney: "I have enough trouble figuring out who is going to run against me." Senator Kerr is very touchy on the subject of handsome Governor Edmonson—almost as touchy as he is on the report that he pulls tax chestnuts out of the Senate fire for Secretary of the Terasury Bob Anderson, who has been awfully nice to Kerr . . . Credit Sol Hurok with bringing the Bolshoi Ballet to the USA. Hurok has been working on cultural exchange between the USA and the USSR for years . . . Ed Reid, potent secretary of the Alabama League of Municipalities, is helping round up southern delegates for Jack Kennedy.

Mobile Telephones

The public hasn't paid much attention to it, but hearings are now being held before the Federal Communications Commission which could give the telephone company a hold on trucking and taxi communications.

It's a hearing to allocate the radio spectrum for molibe radio—the radio used in taxis, trucking firms, oil and gas companies, to communicate with their units from a central office.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company wants 75 megacycles of this precious space on the radio spectrum. It argues that more and more Americans are putting telephones in their cars. Actually, only 17,000 people installed telephones in their cars since 1946. Therefore, other mobile radio outfits claim that what American Tel and Tel really wants is to invade trucking and taxi communications.

NATO As An Insurance Policy Against War

By David Lawrence

LONDON—Can anyone really get a thrill out of the taxes he pays to his government? Well, this correspondent did just the other day when he visited Paris and looked at a certain map at the Supreme Allied Headquarters in Europe. It told in part the story of the 42 billion dollars which the United States is spending on armaments each year.

It was like many a military map which shows, with its arrows, the location of potential forces. But somehow, as one studied it, there was revealed at a glance the tremendous defense system which the Western allies have set up through what is known as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. It reaches, on one side, all the way up to Britain and Norway. On the other side, it extends to Turkey, Greece, Italy, the West of Germany and France. In the Mediterranean there are some big dots that represent small specks on the vast sea, but there one sees the submarines of the future, armed with missiles that can travel 1,500 miles or more into the territory of a possible enemy in the north.

The explanation that accompanied the map is well understood in military circles, but the people generally do not realize that NATO is tied into air bases in Spain, North Africa and strategic areas in other lands and waters adjacent to Europe.

How, it might be asked, can anyone get any satisfaction out of looking at a military map that means war? But this map somehow doesn't mean war. It gives assurance that an enemy could be deterred and war prevented.

Twice in his lifetime, this correspondent has surveyed the terrible destruction of two world wars. Nobody in his right mind could ever want to see war imposed again upon the men, women, and children of Europe.

Also, there is one difference now as compared with the past. Whatever war comes will not be confined to other continents. The destruction would reach into the United States itself. How much would anyone pay to keep a war out of America? It is worth almost any cost. That's why 42 billions is a small sum, relatively speaking, to be spending annually for insurance. The money must, of course, be properly spent and not wasted, and, in general, the armament that America, along with her allies, has developed is effective and is efficiently distributed.

The United States, however, has developed not only weapons but able men to lead us in the foreign field. One of them is General Lauris Norstad, the Supreme Commander of Allied Forces in Europe. He is a dynamic individual, young energetic and competent in every sense. But he has an even greater asset. He knows how to mingle with military officers of other countries as well as with their diplomats. He is humble and even deferential in the presence of the military men of other countries. He makes them feel that they are really members of a team. But, above all else, General Norstad has a penetrating grasp of the military problems of Europe. He is not swayed by the talk of "disengagement" or "disarmament." He believes in the objectives of the hour—to get an assurance of peace. But he insists on safeguards, and they must be effective safeguards.

NATO is more than a military organization. It is more than a mere alliance for war. It has many branches and divisions that are slowly being welded together into one of the most effective international organizations yet created.

NATO is an organization of governments whose ambassadors are specially appointed to sit in Paris and discuss diplomatic affairs of a common interest. On the diplomatic side, the United States is represented by a special ambassador, W. Randolph Burgess, an able businessman of broad experience. His years in the Federal Reserve System and later as vice chairman of the National City Bank of New York have brought to the council table a background of economic experience which is of great value in understanding today's problems of Europe. For nowadays political and economic questions are intertwined.

London is getting ready to welcome on Saturday delegations from 14 of the countries in the alliance as the tenth anniversary of NATO is celebrated. The North Atlantic Treaty Organization is one of the positive achievements of our times.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

Belief in the public's right to know is becoming a rare thing in Washington. Cabinet members are holding fewer press conferences and are becoming less accessible to reporters. Government agency information specialists are assuming more of the job of informing the public of departmental activities and their press releases are necessarily colored by a desire to put their agencies and their bosses in the best possible light.

This trend is not attributable to a particular political party although it is occurring, by coincidence more than by design, during a Republican administration. Basically, as the business of government becomes more complex, department heads are less and less willing to face reporters' questions with off-the-cuff answers. They fear the consequences of hasty answers which may be poorly phrased and subject to unintended interpretations.

This desire for the correct answer is the beginning of the process that is resulting more and more in no answer at all. For when a matter of public interest and concern arises and the process of formulating a statement is undertaken, too many officials must review and approve it before it is issued.

Many times the news value of a government statement deteriorates because of the time it takes to get it written, approved and issued. Too, close observance of federal information regulations influences the "no comment" reply where a spontaneous answer to a reporter's question would have been responsive and informative.

The Washington press corps is itself responsible for some of this drift. If it is to be changed, reporters themselves must become more vigilant in demanding pertinent statements on departmental developments, and be ready to publicize some of the glaring failures in this field.

Russian Autos

By Leslie Gould

(This is the fifth in a series of articles on Russia as seen from the inside by Leslie Gould during a recent visit.)

Russia — the largest country in land area and with 209 million people — has no plans to develop an auto industry.

Present auto production — passenger cars — is 114,000 a year and under the new 7-year plan this will be stepped up to 170,000 cars by 1965.

In a poor year — 1958 — the U. S. turned out 4,247,000 cars and has the productive capacity to build 8 million, which it did in 1955.

Emphasis in Russia is on trucks and buses, present production being 372,000 trucks and 10,000 buses, which are to be increased by 1965 under the 7-year plan to 650,000 trucks and 40,000 buses. The U. S. auto industry currently is turning out more than 872,000 trucks and buses.

The reason Russia has no plans to create an auto industry is simply the commissars don't want the average Russian to move about too freely. Also, Russia hasn't the highways, nor the labor and materials to construct them and at the same time build up and maintain a huge military establishment.

Lack of an auto industry is one of the many weaknesses of Russia. If there was one peacetime industry turned to war production that tipped the scales to victory in World War II it was the American auto. Even Stalin admitted this.

In playing the major productive role in winning World War II, the U.S. auto industry also saved Russian Communism. That is one of life's not so little ironies.

Since there also are very few bicycles and motorcycles in Russia the movement of the masses is restricted to foot, bus, subway, train and plane travel — all under strict Government control. A Russian doesn't just go out and buy a ticket to Vladivostok.

In the city of Moscow — 5½ million population — there are only two automobile show rooms, only one of which we could find and that after some difficulty. It was in a dingy corner store, like those that dotted Third Ave., in New York before the elevated came down. The grimy show windows displayed auto parts.

Inside there were three models on display and a vacant space for two others. Two of the cars were the Moskvich — (meaning Moscovite) — the small four-cylinder car about the size of the smaller Rambler — and a Volga, also four cylinders about the size of a Ford of 1954 vintage.

One of the vacant spaces was for a car smaller — the Pobieda — meaning victory — no longer in production. There is supposed to be in production a car larger than the Volga, comparable with Buick — the Chayka — seagull — to be introduced some time this year.

The big Russian car — a limousine — copied down to the hubcaps from the Packard of four or five years ago — is no longer in production. This is the Zim or Zis, used by the Party leaders. They are easily spotted, for curtains hide the passengers from the prying eyes of the masses. There always are two men in the front seat.

The small Moskvich sells for 25,000 rubles, or $2,500 at the 10 rubles to the dollar rate. The larger Volga, which is a nice performing machine, sells for 40,000 rubles. They are stripped down cars — hand gear shift. Prices of both have been marked up in the last year. The Moskvich used to sell for 19,000 rubles.

The average Russian worker would have to work two and a half years to have the price for the small job, and have nothing for food, clothing, rent or recreation.

Only the elite — the party bosses, the factory managers, the engineers, the propaganda peddlers, the ballet dancers, the circus performers and the higher military officers can afford to buy the cars.

There was a crowd — men and women — in the showroom. As in America, the wife has a say in the selection of a car. Most of the men were in a queue to sign up for delivery 18 months to two years hence. A down payment is made and the balance paid on delivery. There is no time selling of automobiles, or of anything else. It is all cash on the line.

The guide explained time sales were unnecessary, for the buyer saved up the purchase price while waiting delivery.

There is no traffic congestion, even in Russia's Times Square—where Gorky runs into the Red Square. Trucks make up the traffic, and most of these the worse for wear and some vintage of Lend Lease, but mostly Russian copies. We only saw two large modern over-the-road trailer trucks in all our driving in and around Moscow and Leningrad.

Fishing Can Be Flexible, Healthful Sport

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Fishing has become one of America's favorite hobbies. Millions of licenses are issued each year and the tackle industry is big business. Fishing also has many health promoting features.

There are no sex or age limitations. The sport is so flexible it can be arranged to fit the physical and emotional needs of the strong and the weak. Those who want vigorous exercise can walk 10 miles up a swift trout stream or try their luck against tuna or marlir along the ocean fronts.

The person who is recuperating from an operation, a heart attack, or a prolonged illness can enjoy himself sitting in a boat or on a pier with his favorite rod or cane pole doing a little bottom fishing. Besides exercises, fishing offers relaxation, fresh air, and sunlight.

Many people think it's a waste of time and represents cruelty to animals. Everyone is entitled to his opinion but real fishermen catch what they need and release what cannot be used as food. Fish eat fish and getting caught on a hook is mild compared with most of the injuries smaller fish receive from bigger fish.

But there is more to fishing than the catch. Many men and women have made a hobby of fly tying or making bamboo rods. Every large city has one or more casting clubs where members practice to develop accuracy while others stand around kibitzing and describing their latest trip and biggest fish. Casters try out every new gadget that comes along and adult casters are surrounded by children who are being taught the rudiments of casting plugs and flies to perpetuate the sport.

Fishing has its pitfalls such as sunburn, slipping on rocks, and getting caught by a fishhook, not to mention the usual dangers associated with being in boats or around water. These mishaps are avoidable with reasonable caution.

KIDNEY DISEASE

W. R. writes: Does nephritis cause the skin to itch constantly? Mine never did until I developed this kidney disorder.

REPLY

Itching is not a common symptom in nephritis but it does occur. There are many other causes of itching and this problem is discussed in our leaflet on the subject. It can be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

FIRST AID

L. N. writes: What can be done to help the victim of a heart attack before a doctor or the fire department arrives?

REPLY

Help the sufferer sit or recline in a position that offers the most comfort. Do everything possible to allay anxiety. Don't allow anyone other than a physician to administer a drug.

NERVOUSNESS

Mrs. R. writes. Is there any cure for nervousness?

REPLY

It is normal to be nervous under certain conditions but when jitteriness is present all the time because of preoccupation with worries and frustrations, an individual cannot function effectively and something should be done. Common sense measures help some of these people. In others the emotional disturbance is deeply rooted and they cannot make a satisfactory adjustment to life situations or acquire peace of mind. In this respect, nervousness in some persons cannot be cured.

Yes, in some instances, depending upon the severity and the extent of the liver damage produced by the infection (hepatitis).

America's Most Dangerous War

There is a tendency among Americans to gauge the nature of the Communist threat to the United States in terms of the familiar ideas of the past—the threat of war, of espionage, of subversion. This may be a mistake.

The menace of nuclear war does hang over the world. If the Russians were encouraged by weakened Western defenses, or if someone miscalculated, war might come. But the Russians know that a nuclear war would be a suicidal undertaking, with no victors, and they want victory.

It is doubtful, too, that they aim to win primarily through espionage and subversion and propaganda. Such methods are a part of any war, hot or cold, but the Communists' own experience has shown them that they are only tactical tools in support of a larger strategy. And their larger strategy is the complex of skirmishes against weak points that has come to be known as the cold war.

Singapore is a front in the cold war. There the fellow-traveling People's Action Party has just won 43 of the 51 seats in the Assembly. Two-thirds of Singapore's population is of Chinese stock, mostly non-Communist but inclined to be opportunistic toward whatever government rules the Chinese mainland.

Working through this party, the tightly organized Communists have infiltrated schools, unions and now the government itself. They are stepping up the pressure in Singapore. The more successful they are the more pressure they can put on neighboring Malaya.

If the Communists can score enough gains in enough different places, in skirmishes like these, they hope to inundate Asia and eventually the whole world. These operations are a species of war — the most dangerous war the United States has ever been engaged in.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Financing Of Education

It has become customary for American vistiors to Soviet Russia on their return to the United States to speak of how much the Russians spend on education and how little the United States spends. If we take the figures, the United States spends more on education than any people on Earth.

But we are a free people. Our universities are not government institutions, preaching a doctrine which is favored by those who are temporarily in power. We have throughout our history preferred to pay for our own education, particularly on the college and university level. There are also some excellent state colleges and universities.

I have before me some figures which I believe to be reliably compiled, which show that for the year 1957-8, colleges and universities, private and state, had an income of $3,579,730,565. Of this enormous amount $904,328,867 or about 25 per cent came from tuitions and fees; $1,751,703,096 from support of various governments, mostly state but including special Federal contractual arrangements. This came to about 49 per cent of the total. Other sources were gifts and grants, endowment earnings, etc. Endowment earnings upon which the better institutions depended in the past, amounted to only 4.6 per cent of the total, which is very small indeed.

The Council for Financial Aid to Education estimates that for the year 1969-70, education will require about $9,000,000,000, because of the increasing population and the higher cost of everything. The figure may mean something or nothing depending upon the value of our currency. If, for instance, the American dollar at that time is worth 24 cents, $7,000,000,000 plus will be of the same value as the figures for 1957-58. Comparative figures involving currency always have to be recalculated on the basis of the value of currency at different times.

However we look at it, the cost of higher education will increase and it is not expected that tuition fees will pay for it. At best, the student pays about 25 per cent of the cost of his education. Even this amount comes high in the family budget. When two or three children in a family are at college at the same time, the load could be unbearable.

This is particularly true if the better students are involved. For they will take an additional course or seminar, stay longer at college to get an M.A. or a Ph.D. or go to a professional school.

The heavy load that capable students carry at the better colleges precludes any serious outside work. Of course, students who take phony courses have plenty of time to do outside work. And there are always plenty of phony courses and plenty of phony students. But as the cost of education rises and the need for smart boys and girls grows increasingly urgent, there will be increasingly less room for the phony student at college. Usually, he will be dropped by the sophomore year. In fact, it is an economic waste to keep even a C student at college; as for those who average under C, there is no justification for keeping a chair warm for him or her. Certainly with education costing what it does, only very rich parents and very badly administered colleges will bother with dopes.

American faculties are not always of the soundest. A professor who marks favorably because a student agrees with his point of view in courses which involve analysis and interpretation is an intellectual robber. Too many independent students are marked down, particularly in the social science courses, because they reach different conclusions from the instructors, although their own conclusions give evidence of hard work, a knowledge of the subject, and a capacity to think. Really smart students, while holding independent views, repeat the instructor's conclusions although regarding them as erroneous.

Such students have been taught that to advance in this world, one must flatter and lie. It is a very bad business. Truly great men do not need flattery or agreement. They appreciate originality.

What must come, during the next decade, is a complete reorientation of our system of university education so that it prepares the mind of the student for honest and original thinking. Some of the so-called disciplines may disappear as fruitless plays on words. More and more the university will be a place to acquire knowledge and the skill to use it and less and less a social center.

United Steelworkers Are Ready To Walk Out At End Of Month

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Word has gone out to the nation's steelworkers to be ready to walk off the job at the end of this month. All that remains is formal ratification of a strike by the union's wage policy committee.

At least one wildcat strike has already been reported by Jones and Laughlin, though the news was kept out of the papers. Their Chicago plant was emptied for one afternoon until the union persuaded the workers to go back to their jobs.

Meanwhile, White House aides have advised the steel companies that President Eisenhower won't intervene in the strike unless the national security is threatened. This suits the steel tycoons who have stockpiled enough steel to last three to four months.

Brass Hat Lobbyists

Congressman Alfred Santangelo, who represents part of the teeming island of Manhattan, has introduced an amendment to the Defense Appropriations Act which could save the taxpayers a lot of money. The Democratic Congressman wants to bar defense contracts to any company which is employing a retired general or admiral who has been out of the service for less than five years.

The Congressman figures that when a retired admiral or general goes back to the Pentagon to talk to his former subordinates, he has a favorite position in winning billion-dollar contracts. And with most big defense contracts let on a noncompetitive, cost-plus basis, there is more favoritism in the Pentagon than in Tammany Hall.

The list of retired Army, Air Force and naval officers working for big corporations reads almost like the membership of the Army-Navy Club. It will be interesting to see what the budget-balancing administration does about Congressman Santangelo's amendment.

Note—On the Senate side, Illinois' Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas has demanded a list of all retired officers who work for the 100 biggest defense contractors. He points out that 95 per cent of defense contracts are awarded without competitive bidding. Many of the military men who hand out these multimillion-dollar contracts later go to work for the companies they favored.

Unanswered Letter

There's a very important, relatively unanswered letter tucked away in the voluminous Senate hearings on Admiral Strauss. It hasn't made headlines and won't. But its subject will bring worry to every mother. For it concerns the vital question of what radioactive fallout may do to her children.

The charge has been made by ex-commissioner Tom Murray of the AEC that Strauss didn't want the public to realize the danger from fallout. And at the conclusion of the Senate hearings, Warren Magnuson of Washington wrote Strauss a letter asking him point-blank if he had prevented professor H. J. Muller of Indiana University, noted authority on radioactive fallout, from reading a paper on this subject at Geneva in 1955.

"When Dr. Muller appeared at the Geneva sessions," Senator Magnuson wrote, "he was invited to take part in the discussions, but, immediately before the session, was advised that he could not speak. . . Dr. Muller's paper was withdrawn.

"Since Dr. Muller had published an article . . . differing from the official position of the Atomic Energy Commission, there is some ground for inference that the commission was motivated by a desire to prevent the expression of such a contrary view.

"I wish you would advise the committee what, if any, part you had in this matter," concluded Magnuson.

In a press conference following the censoring of Dr. Muller at Geneva, Strauss had said he accepted full responsibility. But in answering Magnuson's recent letter, the would-be Secretary of Commerce wrote: "I have no record on this subject and would have to rely on records of the Atomic Energy Commission."

Note—Strauss was one of Ike's advisers who urged him to reverse Adlai Stevenson's proposal for a suspension of H-Bomb testing, if Russia would agree. Eisenhower did so and denounced Stevenson, but is now negotiating with Russia for exactly what was proposed in October 1956.

Washington Pipeline

Democratic candidates for President are giving each other the after-you-Alphonse treatment. Though Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota is one of the top farm experts in the nation, he bowed to Stuart Symington of Missouri when it came to investigating the Agriculture Department. He let Symington become chairman. Said Symington: "I'm certainly honored to have Hubert sit on my committee." . . . Rugged Sen. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma, speaking on the Soviet economic challenge in Washington, got a question from the floor on an entirely different subject. It read: "Will Governor Edmonson of Oklahoma run against Sen. Bob Kerr in 1960?" Replied Monroney: "I have enough trouble figuring out who is going to run against me." Senator Kerr is very touchy on the subject of handsome Governor Edmonson—almost as touchy as he is on the report that he pulls tax chestnuts out of the Senate fire for Secretary of the Terasury Bob Anderson, who has been awfully nice to Kerr . . . Credit Sol Hurok with bringing the Bolshoi Ballet to the USA. Hurok has been working on cultural exchange between the USA and the USSR for years . . . Ed Reid, potent secretary of the Alabama League of Municipalities, is helping round up southern delegates for Jack Kennedy.

Mobile Telephones

The public hasn't paid much attention to it, but hearings are now being held before the Federal Communications Commission which could give the telephone company a hold on trucking and taxi communications.

It's a hearing to allocate the radio spectrum for molibe radio —the radio used in taxis, trucking firms, oil and gas companies, to communicate with their units from a central office.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company wants 75 megacycles of this precious space on the radio spectrum. It argues that more and more Americans are putting telephones in their cars. Actually, only 17,000 people installed telephones in their cars since 1946. Therefore, other mobile radio outfits claim that what American Tel and Tel really wants is to invade trucking and taxi communications.

NATO As An Insurance Policy Against War

By David Lawrence

LONDON—Can anyone really get a thrill out of the taxes he pays to his government? Well, this correspondent did just the other day when he visited Paris and looked at a certain map at the Supreme Allied Headquarters in Europe. It told in part the story of the 42 billion dollars which the United States is spending on armaments each year.

It was like many a military map which shows, with its arrows, the location of potential forces. But somehow, as one studied it, there was revealed at a glance the tremendous defense system which the Western allies have set up through what is known as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. It reaches, on one side, all the way up to Britain and Norway. On the other side, it extends to Turkey, Greece, Italy, the West of Germany and France. In the Mediterranean there are some big dots that represent small specks on the vast sea, but there one sees the submarines of the future, armed with missiles that can travel 1,500 miles or more into the territory of a possible enemy in the north.

The explanation that accompanied the map is well understood in military circles, but the people generally do not realize that NATO is tied into air bases in Spain, North Africa and strategic areas in other lands and waters adjacent to Europe.

How, it might be asked, can anyone get any satisfaction out of looking at a military map that means war? But this map somehow doesn't mean war. It gives assurance that an enemy could be deterred and war prevented.

Twice in his lifetime, this correspondent has surveyed the terrible destruction of two world wars. Nobody in his right mind could ever want to see war imposed again upon the men, women, and children of Europe.

Also, there is one difference now as compared with the past. Whatever war comes will not be confined to other continents. The destruction would reach into the United States itself. How much would anyone pay to keep a war out of America? It is worth almost any cost. That's why 42 billions is a small sum, relatively speaking, to be spending annually for insurance. The money must, of course, be properly spent and not wasted, and, in general, the armament that America, along with her allies, has developed is effective and is efficiently distributed.

The United States, however, has developed not only weapons but able men to lead us in the foreign field. One of them is General Lauris Norstad, the Supreme Commander of Allied Forces in Europe. He is a dynamic individual, young energetic and competent in every sense. But he has an even greater asset. He knows how to mingle with military officers of other countries as well as with their diplomats. He is humble and even deferential in the presence of the military men of other countries. He makes them feel that they are really members of a team. But, above all else, General Norstad has a penetrating grasp of the military problems of Europe. He is not swayed by the talk of "disengagement" or "disarmament." He believes in the objectives of the hour—to get an assurance of peace. But he insists on safeguards, and they must be effective safeguards.

NATO is more than a military organization. It is more than a mere alliance for war. It has many branches and divisions that are slowly being welded together into one of the most effective international organizations yet created.

NATO is an organization of governments whose ambassadors are specially appointed to sit in Paris and discuss diplomatic affairs of a common interest. On the diplomatic side, the United States is represented by a special ambassador, W. Randolph Burgess, an able businessman of broad experience. His years in the Federal Reserve System and later as vice chairman of the National City Bank of New York have brought to the council table a background of economic experience which is of great value in understanding today's problems of Europe. For nowadays political and economic questions are intertwined.

London is getting ready to welcome on Saturday delegations from 14 of the countries in the alliance as the tenth anniversary of NATO is celebrated. The North Atlantic Treaty Organization is one of the positive achievements of our times.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

Belief in the public's right to know is becoming a rare thing in Washington. Cabinet members are holding fewer press conferences and are becoming less accessible to reporters. Government agency information specialists are assuming more of the job of informing the public of departmental activities and their press releases are necessarily colored by a desire to put their agencies and their bosses in the best possible light.

This trend is not attributable to a particular political party although it is occurring, by coincidence more than by design, during a Republican administration. Basically, as the business of government becomes more complex, department heads are less and less willing to face reporters' questions with off-the-cuff answers. They fear the consequences of hasty answers which may be poorly phrased and subject to unintended interpretations.

This desire for the correct answer is the beginning of the process that is resulting more and more in no answer at all. For when a matter of public interest and concern arises and the process of formulating a statement is undertaken, too many officials must review and approve it before it is issued.

Many times the news value of a government statement deteriorates because of the time it takes to get it written, approved and issued. Too, close observance of federal information regulations influences the "no comment" reply where a spontaneous answer to a reporter's question would have been responsive and informative.

The Washington press corps is itself responsible for some of this drift. If it is to be changed, reporters themselves must become more vigilant in demanding pertinent statements on departmental developments, and be ready to publicize some of the glaring failures in this field.

Fishing Can Be Flexible, Healthful Sport

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Fishing has become one of America's favorite hobbies. Millions of licenses are issued each year and the tackle industry is big business. Fishing also has many health promoting features.

There are no sex or age limitations. The sport is so flexible it can be arranged to fit the physical and emotional needs of the strong and the weak. Those who want vigorous exercise can walk 10 miles up a swift trout stream or try their luck against tuna or marlir along the ocean fronts.

The person who is recuperating from an operation, a heart attack, or a prolonged illness can enjoy himself sitting in a boat or on a pier with his favorite rod or cane pole doing a little bottom fishing. Besides exercises, fishing offers relaxation, fresh air, and sunlight.

Many people think it's a waste of time and represents cruelty to animals. Everyone is entitled to his opinion but real fishermen catch what they need and release what cannot be used as food. Fish eat fish and getting caught on a hook is mild compared with most of the injuries smaller fish receive from bigger fish.

But there is more to fishing than the catch. Many men and women have made a hobby of fly tying or making bamboo rods. Every large city has one or more casting clubs where members practice to develop accuracy while others stand around kibitzing and describing their latest trip and biggest fish. Casters try out every new gadget that comes along and adult casters are surrounded by children who are being taught the rudiments of casting plugs and flies to perpetuate the sport.

Fishing has its pitfalls such as sunburn, slipping on rocks, and getting caught by a fishhook, not to mention the usual dangers associated with being in boats or around water. These mishaps are avoidable with reasonable caution.

Russian Autos

By Leslie Gould

(This is the fifth in a series of articles on Russia as seen from the inside by Leslie Gould during a recent visit.)

Russia — the largest country in land area and with 209 million people — has no plans to develop an auto industry.

Present auto production — passenger cars — is 114,000 a year and under the new 7-year plan this will be stepped up to 170,000 cars by 1965.

In a poor year — 1958 — the U. S. turned out 4,247,000 cars and has the productive capacity to build 8 million, which it did in 1955.

Emphasis in Russia is on trucks and buses, present production being 372,000 trucks and 10,000 buses, which are to be increased by 1965 under the 7-year plan to 650,000 trucks and 40,000 buses. The U. S. auto industry currently is turning out more than 872,000 trucks and buses.

The reason Russia has no plans to create an auto industry is simply the commissars don't want the average Russian to move about too freely. Also, Russia hasn't the highways, nor the labor and materials to construct them and at the same time build up and maintain a huge military establishment.

Lack of an auto industry is one of the many weaknesses of Russia. If there was one peacetime industry turned to war production that tipped the scales to victory in World War II it was the American auto. Even Stalin admitted this.

In playing the major productive role in winning World War II, the U.S. auto industry also saved Russian Communism. That is one of life's not so little ironies.

Since there also are very few bicycles and motorcycles in Russia the movement of the masses is restricted to foot, bus, subway, train and plane travel — all under strict government control. A Russian doesn't just go out and buy a ticket to Vladivostok.

In the city of Moscow — 5½ million population — there are only two automobile show rooms, only one of which we could find and that after some difficulty. It was in a dingy corner store, like those that dotted Third Ave., in New York before the elevated came down. The grimy show windows displayed auto parts.

Inside there were three models on display and a vacant space for two others. Two of the cars were the Moskvich — (meaning Moscovite) — the small four-cylinder car about the size of the smaller Rambler — and a Volga, also four cylinders about the size of a Ford of 1954 vintage.

One of the vacant spaces was for a car smaller — the Pobieda — meaning victory — no longer in production. There is supposed to be in production a car larger than the Volga, comparable with Buick — the Chayka — seagull — to be introduced some time this year.

The big Russian car — a limousine — copied down to the hubcaps from the Packard of four or five years ago — is no longer in production. This is the Zim or Zis, used by the Party leaders. They are easily spotted, for curtains hide the passengers from the prying eyes of the masses. There always are two men in the front seat.

The small Moskvich sells for 25,000 rubles, or $2,500 at the 10 rubles to the dollar rate. The larger Volga, which is a nice performing machine, sells for 40,000 rubles. They are stripped down cars — hand gear shift. Prices of both have been marked up in the last year. The Moskvich used to sell for 19,000 rubles.

The average Russian worker would have to work two and a half years to have the price for the small job, and have nothing for food, clothing, rent or recreation.

Only the elite — the party bosses, the factory managers, the engineers, the propaganda peddlers, the ballet dancers, the circus performers and the higher military officers can afford to buy the cars.

There was a crowd — men and women — in the showroom. As in America, the wife has a say in the selection of a car. Most of the men were in a queue to sign up for delivery 18 months to two years hence. A down payment is made and the balance paid on delivery. There is no time selling of automobiles, or of anything else. It is all cash on the line.

The guide explained time sales were unnecessary, for the buyer saved up the purchase price while waiting delivery.

There is no traffic congestion, even in Russia's Times Square —where Gorky runs into the Red Square. Trucks make up the traffic, and most of these the worse for wear and some vintage of Lend Lease, but mostly Russian copies. We only saw two large modern over-the-road trailer trucks in all our driving in and around Moscow and Leningrad.

Cubs Stop Pirates, 10-5; Yanks Belt Cleveland, 11-2

Buc Hurlers Pounded For 17 Safeties

Longest Win Streak Ends At Six; Banks, Long Clout Homers

By JOHN CARROLL
United Press International

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Chicago Cubs, with homers by Dale Long and Ernie Banks buoying their 17-hit attack, outslugged the Pittsburgh Pirates, 10-5, Friday night to end the Bucs' longest winning streak of the year at six games.

Every man in the Cub lineup except winning pitcher Glen Hobbie and outfielder Lee Walls, who played only the ninth inning on defense, hit safely at least once off a parade of five Pirate hurlers. Second baseman Tony Taylor clouted four hits. Long had three while Banks, George Altman and Alvin Dark registered two each.

Pittsburgh also reached double figures in the hit column with 14, but Hobbie and his relief man, Don Elston, proved tough in the clutch.

The Cubs made short work of starter Vernon Law by scoring three runs in the first inning and four more in the second to send him down to his third defeat against five victories. Long hit a solo homer, his seventh, in the opening frame and Banks shot his 13th out of the park with a mate aboard in the second off Don Blackburn, the second Pirate pitcher.

In a slugfest that consumed 3 hours and 58 minutes, the hometown crowd of 27,335 had some solace when they saw the longest home run ever hit out of Forbes Field—in dead center field—since the park was opened in June, 1909. It came in the first inning when Dick Stuart powered Hobbie's 1-1 delivery over the wall just to the left of the 457-foot mark with Smoky Burgess on base. The Pirates scored single runs in the fifth, seventh and eighth innings but could never catch up with the hard-hitting Cubs.

After their seven-run outburst in the first two innings, the Cubs scored once in the fourth off R. G. Smith and tacked on their final two in the ninth when rookie Don Williams was on the mound.

The victory was Chicago's fifth in seven meetings with the Pirates thus far this season with the two clubs scheduled to play three more games during the week end.

Giants Bow To Newcombe In 7-2 Tilt

Cincinnati Hurler Yields Only 3 Hits

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Roy McMillan and Johnny Temple, more renowned for their fielding than their hitting, turned sluggers Friday night as the Cincinnati Reds beat the San Francisco Giants, 7-2, behind the three-hit pitching of big Don Newcombe.

McMillan socked his seventh homer of the season, equalling his career high for one year, in the third inning. Temple's third homer of the season touched off a five-run, Red sixth inning which sent Johnny Antonelli to the showers, and broke a 1-1 tie.

Four of the Reds' five runs in the inning came after two were out when they bunched six straight hits, three of them doubles.

Big Newk, who notched his fifth victory of the season, hurled hitless ball until one was out in the fifth inning. Willie Kirkland's sixth homer, coming in the sixth inning, accounted for the Giants' first run. Another scored in the ninth on a wild pitch. The triumph was the big right hander's fourth in a row. He fanned six and walked only two.

Simpson's Pinch Double Wins Game

By ED SAINSBURY
United Press International

CHICAGO (UPI)—Harry Simpson's bases-loaded pinch double in the eighth inning scored all three runners Friday night to boost the Chicago White Sox to a 5-2 triumph over the Boston Red Sox to preserve their first place hold in the American League.

Simpson batted for relief pitcher Jerry Staley after Earl Torgeson had singled and was safe at second on Al Smith's sacrifice when pitcher Murray Wall threw wide on an attempted force play. A wild pitch then advanced both runners before Jim Landis was walked intentionally.

Leo Kiley came in to pitch to him, and Simpson worked the count to 2-2 before he clubbed the ball to the right center field corner. It was his third straight hit in 11 pinch hitting appearances and gave him five runs batted in in the role.

Staley, who was credited with his second win against one defeat pitched only one inning, relieving starter Early Wynn in the eighth with the bases full and no outs. Both Frank Malzone and Gary Geiger forced runners at the plate before Vic Wertz was safe on Torgeson's error as the tying run scored. Earlier Frank Malzone homered for Boston's first run.

A single by John Romano and Smith's triple scored Chicago's first run and a double by Luis Aparicio and a single by Bubba Phillips produced the second.

It was the Sox fifth win in six games with Boston and widened Chicago's margin over the rest of the league to a game and a half.

Tigers Edge Washington In 9th, 7-6

Kaline's Single Decides Contest

By LLOYD NORTHARD
United Press International

DETROIT (UPI) — Al Kaline lined a single to center field to score Eddie Yost from second base in the ninth inning Friday night and give the Detroit Tigers a 7-6 victory over the Washington Senators.

Kaline's hit nullified a one-man show by Washington rookie Bob Allison who lined out two homers and three singles for a perfect night at the plate.

But Eddie Yost opened the ninth with a single that bounced over the head of third baseman Harmon Killebrew. Harvey Kuenn sacrificed and Charley Maxwell was purposely passed. Kaline then tagged Camilo Pascual's first pitch over second base and Yost scored easily.

Pascual went the distance and would have fared better with good support from his fielders. An error and a passed ball enabled Detroit to score three unearned runs.

Dave Sisler, third Detroit pitcher, gained credit for the victory. It was his first against one loss. Pascual suffered his fourth setback against six wins.

Phils Trade Willie Jones To Cleveland

Indians Give Up Bolger; Cash Is Involved In Swap

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Willie Jones, veteran third baseman of the Philadelphia Phillies, was traded to the Cleveland Indians Friday, trimming the list of original 1950 "Whiz Kids" still on the Phils' active roster to three.

"Ole aches and pains," regular third sacker of the Phillies since 1949, went to the American League pennant contenders for outfielder Jim Bolger, who joined the Tribe at the end of last season. Some cash was involved.

Bolger, 27, and a native of Cincinnati, had hitches with the Reds and the Chicago Cubs before going to the Indians.

All American League clubs waived on Bolger to permit the National League's last place Phils to get him.

Jones joins Gran Hamner with the Indians as the result of an earlier trade between the two teams which brought relief hurler Umberto Robinson to the Phils.

The departure of Jones leaves only Robin Roberts, Curt Simmons and Richie Ashburn of the 1950 National League pennant-winners still playing for Philadelphia.

Jones has been counted out as the Phils' third baseman each season since 1953, and each year came along to win the job and defy anyone to take it from him. His best batting year was a .285 average with 81 RBI's in 1951. He has a .269 average with seven home runs and 24 runs batted in this season.

Dodgers Defeat Spahn 27th Time

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers continued their long-time hex over Milwaukee's Warren Spahn Friday night as Johnny Podres spaced seven hits for a 5-1 victory over the Braves.

The Dodgers rapped Spahn for nine hits and four of their runs in the seven innings that he worked.

The Dodgers, the only team with a life-time edge over Spahn, have defeated him 27 times while losing only 14 down through the years.

Spahn dropped his second straight decision of the season to the Dodgers while failing to get his 254th National League victory.

Podres struck out five while walking only one in registering his sixth victory against two defeats.

The Dodgers wasted little time getting to Spahn, scoring a run in the first inning, two in the second and a fourth in the fifth.

The Braves tied it in the first on a double by Casey Wise, an infield out that got Wise to third and a sacrifice fly by Hank Aaron.

The fourth Los Angeles run came on doubles by Charlie Neal and Gil Hodges in the fifth.

Eastern Mobsters Warned After Attack On Leonard

Urged To Stay Out Of Boxing On Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Eastern mobsters were warned Friday to stay out of boxing in California in the wake of the attack on matchmaker Jackie Leonard in Los Angeles and a mysterious, threatening telephone call to promoter Don Chagin of Oakland.

"We are in this with both hands and feet now and we'll fight to the bitter end to clean this damned thing up once and for all," Doug Hayden of the state Athletic Commission told United Press International. "If these Eastern mobsters come out here they know what they can expect."

Hayden, who is chief special agent for the Pacific Telephone Co. in northern California, said the call to Chagin was from out of town—probably from a phone booth.

"We don't know who it was," said Hayden. "It could have been anybody.

"But when men like Blinky Palermo and Jack Dragna start putting the pressure on you, then there is something behind it."

Hayden said the attack on Leonard, according to his investigators, was non-professional.

"Those jokers who beat up Leonard didn't appear to be too professional," said Hayden. "They hit him over the head with a one-gallon jug that was in his garage. I'm sure they just wanted to frighten him."

The commission recently held a hearing in Los Angeles in which Leonard charged that he had been threatened by gangsters; and that they wanted control of welterweight champion Don Jordan. He received the beating after the hearing.

Cub Hurler Trips, Suffers Knee Injury

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Chicago Cub pitcher Dave Hillman tripped over a tarpaulin in pre-game drills at Forbes Field Friday and was carried to the clubhouse on a stretcher.

Hillman was chasing a fungo fly before the Cub-Pirate game when he stumbled over the tarpaulin and sprawled against a guard rail.

New York Gets 17 Hits, Cops Seven Of Last 8 Games

CLEVELAND (UPI)—The New York Yankees backed Art Ditmar's brilliant pitching with a 17-hit attack, including homers by Gil McDougald and Elston Howard, to rout the Cleveland Indians, 11-2, Friday night before 51,935 fans, largest American League crowd of the season.

It was the Yanks' seventh victory in their last eight games, the sixth straight defeat and eighth in nine starts for Cleveland, which continues in a deep batting slump.

Rocky Hits 14th

The Indians, who rapped Ditmar for just seven hits, have made only three runs in the last 19 innings, four in the last 34 and five tallies in the last 44 frames. Ditmar, now 3-4, lost a shutout when Billy Martin homered in the eighth. It was his sixth of the campaign. Rocky Colavito hit No. 14 in the ninth.

New York pounded Gary Bell, who suffered his fifth loss in nine decisions, for six runs and eight hits in the first six innings. Bud Podbielan, Al Cicotte and Mike Garcia followed Bell to the mound.

Gil Poles First

McDougald socked his first homer of the year with the bases empty in the second inning after the Yanks had scored once in the first.

Howard's homer, No. 7, came with one on in the sixth. He also had a single and double as every Yank except Mickey Mantle had at least one hit. Mantle, however, drew three walks.

Norm Siebern, Bill Skowron and Hector Lopez also had two rbi's apiece in the balanced New York offense.

The crowd topped the previous high in the league this season—43,438 at Detroit for a Yank doubleheader — and was the largest here since a 69,532 gathering on Sept. 4, 1955.

Buc Hurlers Pounded For 17 Safeties

Longest Win Streak Ends At Six; Banks, Long Clout Homers

By JOHN CARROLL
United Press International

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Chicago Cubs, with homers by Dale Long and Ernie Banks buoying their 17-hit attack, outslugged the Pittsburgh Pirates, 10-5, Friday night to end the Bucs' longest winning streak of the year at six games.

Every man in the Cub lineup except winning pitcher Glen Hobbie and outfielder Lee Walls, who played only the ninth inning on defense, hit safely at least once off a parade of five Pirate hurlers. Second baseman Tony Taylor clouted four hits. Long had three while Banks, George Altman and Alvin Dark registered two each.

Pittsburgh also reached double figures in the hit column with 14, but Hobbie and his relief man, Don Elston, proved tough in the clutch.

The Cubs made short work of starter Vernon Law by scoring three runs in the first inning and four more in the second to send him down to his third defeat against five victories. Long hit a solo homer, his seventh, in the opening frame and Banks shot his 13th out of the park with a mate aboard in the second off Don Blackburn, the second Pirate pitcher.

In a slugfest that consumed 3 hours and 58 minutes, the hometown crowd of 27,335 had some solace when they saw the longest home run ever hit out of Forbes Field—in dead center field—since the park was opened in June, 1909. It came in the first inning when Dick Stuart powered Hobbie's 1-1 delivery over the wall just to the left of the 457-foot mark with Smoky Burgess on base. The Pirates scored single runs in the fifth, seventh and eighth innings but could never catch up with the hard-hitting Cubs.

After their seven-run outburst in the first two innings, the Cubs scored once in the fourth off R. G. Smith and tacked on their final two in the ninth when rookie Don Williams was on the mound.

The victory was Chicago's fifth in seven meetings with the Pirates thus far this season with the two clubs scheduled to play three more games during the week end.

Giants Bow To Newcombe In 7-2 Tilt

Cincinnati Hurler Yields Only 3 Hits

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Roy McMillan and Johnny Temple, more renowned for their fielding than their hitting, turned sluggers Friday night as the Cincinnati Reds beat the San Francisco Giants, 7-2, behind the three-hit pitching of big Don Newcombe.

McMillan socked his seventh homer of the season, equalling his career high for one year, in the third inning. Temple's third homer of the season touched off a five-run, Red sixth inning which sent Johnny Antonelli to the showers, and broke a 1-1 tie.

Four of the Reds' five runs in the inning came after two were out when they bunched six straight hits, three of them doubles.

Big Newk, who notched his fifth victory of the season, hurled hitless ball until one was out in the fifth inning. Willie Kirkland's sixth homer, coming in the sixth inning, accounted for the Giants' first run. Another scored in the ninth on a wild pitch. The triumph was the big right hander's fourth in a row. He fanned six and walked only two.

Simpson's Pinch Double Wins Game

By ED SAINSBURY
United Press International

CHICAGO (UPI)—Harry Simpson's bases-loaded pinch double in the eighth inning scored all three runners Friday night to boost the Chicago White Sox to a 5-2 triumph over the Boston Red Sox to preserve their first place hold in the American League.

Simpson batted for relief pitcher Jerry Staley after Earl Torgeson had singled and was safe at second on Al Smith's sacrifice when pitcher Murray Wall threw wide on an attempted force play. A wild pitch then advanced both runners before Jim Landis was walked intentionally.

Leo Kiley came in to pitch to him, and Simpson worked the count to 2-2 before he clubbed the ball to the right center field corner. It was his third straight hit in 11 pinch hitting appearances and gave him five runs batted in in the role.

Staley, who was credited with his second win against one defeat pitched only one inning, relieving starter Early Wynn in the eighth with the bases full and no outs. Both Frank Malzone and Gary Geiger forced runners at the plate before Vic Wertz was safe on Torgeson's error as the tying run scored. Earlier Frank Malzone homered for Boston's first run.

A single by John Romano and Smith's triple scored Chicago's first run and a double by Luis Aparicio and a single by Bubba Phillips produced the second.

It was the Sox fifth win in six games with Boston and widened Chicago's margin over the rest of the league to a game and a half.

Tigers Edge Washington In 9th, 7-6

Kaline's Single Decides Contest

By LLOYD NORTHARD
United Press International

DETROIT (UPI) — Al Kaline lined a single to center field to score Eddie Yost from second base in the ninth inning Friday night and give the Detroit Tigers a 7-6 victory over the Washington Senators.

Kaline's hit nullified a one-man show by Washington rookie Bob Allison who lined out two homers and three singles for a perfect night at the plate.

But Eddie Yost opened the ninth with a single that bounced over the head of third baseman Harmon Killebrew. Harvey Kuenn sacrificed and Charley Maxwell was purposely passed. Kaline then tagged Camilo Pascual's first pitch over second base and Yost scored easily.

Pascual went the distance and would have fared better with good support from his fielders. An error and a passed ball enabled Detroit to score three unearned runs.

Dave Sisler, third Detroit pitcher, gained credit for the victory. It was his first against one loss. Pascual suffered his fourth setback against six wins.

Phils Trade Willie Jones To Cleveland

Indians Give Up Bolger; Cash Is Involved In Swap

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Willie Jones, veteran third baseman of the Philadelphia Phillies, was traded to the Cleveland Indians Friday, trimming the list of original 1950 "Whiz Kids" still on the Phils' active roster to three.

"Ole aches and pains," regular third sacker of the Phillies since 1949, went to the American League pennant contenders for outfielder Jim Bolger, who joined the Tribe at the end of last season. Some cash was involved.

Bolger, 27, and a native of Cincinnati, had hitches with the Reds and the Chicago Cubs before going to the Indians.

All American League clubs waived on Bolger to permit the National League's last place Phils to get him.

Jones joins Gran Hamner with the Indians as the result of an earlier trade between the two teams which brought relief hurler Umberto Robinson to the Phils.

The departure of Jones leaves only Robin Roberts, Curt Simmons and Richie Ashburn of the 1950 National League pennant-winners still playing for Philadelphia.

Jones has been counted out as the Phils' third baseman each season since 1953, and each year came along to win the job and defy anyone to take it from him. His best batting year was a .285 average with 81 RBI's in 1951. He has a .269 average with seven home runs and 24 runs batted in this season.

Dodgers Defeat Spahn 27th Time

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers continued their long-time hex over Milwaukee's Warren Spahn Friday night as Johnny Podres spaced seven hits for a 5-1 victory over the Braves.

The Dodgers rapped Spahn for nine hits and four of their runs in the seven innings that he worked.

The Dodgers, the only team with a life-time edge over Spahn, have defeated him 27 times while losing only 14 down through the years.

Spahn dropped his second straight decision of the season to the Dodgers while failing to get his 254th National League victory.

Podres struck out five while walking only one in registering his sixth victory against two defeats.

The Dodgers wasted little time getting to Spahn, scoring a run in the first inning, two in the second and a fourth in the fifth.

The Braves tied it in the first on a double by Casey Wise, an infield out that got Wise to third and a sacrifice fly by Hank Aaron.

The fourth Los Angeles run came on doubles by Charlie Neal and Gil Hodges in the fifth.

Eastern Mobsters Warned After Attack On Leonard

Urged To Stay Out Of Boxing On Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Eastern mobsters were warned Friday to stay out of boxing in California in the wake of the attack on matchmaker Jackie Leonard in Los Angeles and a mysterious, threatening telephone call to promoter Don Chagin of Oakland.

"We are in this with both hands and feet now and we'll fight to the bitter end to clean this damned thing up once and for all," Doug Hayden of the state Athletic Commission told United Press International. "If these Eastern mobsters come out here they know what they can expect."

Hayden who is chief special agent for the Pacific Telephone Co. in northern California, said the call to Chagin was from out of town—probably from a phone booth.

"We don't know who it was," said Hayden. "It could have been anybody.

"But when men like Blinky Palermo and Jack Dragna start putting the pressure on you, then there is something behind it."

Hayden said the attack on Leonard, according to his investigators, was non-professional.

"Those jokers who beat up Leonard didn't appear to be too professional," said Hayden. "They hit him over the head with a one-gallon jug that was in his garage. I'm sure they just wanted to frighten him."

The commission recently held a hearing in Los Angeles in which Leonard charged that he had been threatened by gangsters; and that they wanted control of welterweight champion Don Jordan. He received the beating after the hearing.

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Chicago Cub pitcher Dave Hillman tripped over a tarpaulin in pre-game drills at Forbes Field Friday and was carried to the clubhouse on a stretcher.

A preliminary examination showed Hillman suffered bruises of the right knee and ice packs were applied. A club official said the injuries were not serious.

Hillman was chasing a fungo fly before the Cub-Pirate game when he stumbled over the tarpaulin and sprawled against a guard rail.

51,935 See Tribe Lose 6th In Row

New York Gets 17 Hits, Cops Seven Of Last 8 Games

CLEVELAND (UPI)—The New York Yankees backed Art Ditmar's brilliant pitching with a 17-hit attack, including homers by Gil McDougald and Elston Howard, to rout the Cleveland Indians, 11-2, Friday night before 51,935 fans, largest American League crowd of the season.

It was the Yanks' seventh victory in their last eight games, the sixth straight defeat and eighth in nine starts for Cleveland, which continues in a deep batting slump.

Rocky Hits 14th

The Indians, who rapped Ditmar for just seven hits, have made only three runs in the last 19 innings, four in the last 34 and five tallies in the last 44 frames. Ditmar, now 3-4, lost a shutout when Billy Martin homered in the eighth. It was his sixth of the campaign. Rocky Colavito hit No. 14 in the ninth.

New York pounded Gary Bell, who suffered his fifth loss in nine decisions, for six runs and eight hits in the first six innings. Bud Podbielan, Al Cicotte and Mike Garcia followed Bell to the mound.

Gil Poles First

McDougald socked his first homer of the year with the bases empty in the second inning after the Yanks had scored once in the first.

Howard's homer, No. 7, came with one on in the sixth. He also had a single and double as every Yank except Mickey Mantle had at least one hit. Mantle, however, drew three walks.

Norm Siebern, Bill Skowron and Hector Lopez also had two rbi's apiece in the balanced New York offense.

The crowd topped the previous high in the league this season—43,438 at Detroit for a Yank doubleheader — and was the largest here since a 69,532 gathering on Sept. 4, 1955.

Gene Littler Leads Eastern Open Tourney By Stroke

Ed Oliver Is Second With 133

Fred Hawkins Holds On To Third Place In Baltimore Test

By GEORGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gene Littler carved 5 more strokes off par 72 at stormy Pine Ridge Friday and was 12 to the good of the course standard and 1 ahead of his nearest competitor halfway through the Eastern Open.

Ed (Porky) Oliver, the 44-year-old jolly man of golf, stuck tenaciously to the heels of Littler, star of this year's professional tour. Littler, 28, went into Saturday's third round with 132 strokes to Oliver's 133.

Each went around the 6,820-yard course in 67 strokes despite tricky conditions caused by rain and wind accompanied by lightning for the second round.

Littler, however, had started out with a one-stroke edge on Oliver by virtue of a blistering 65 Thursday.

Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Texas, held on to third place although he lost ground to the leaders. Hawkins was at 135 on rounds of 67-68.

Henry Ransom, 48, of St. Andrews, Ill., moved up to fourth with the best round of the day, 66 on top of an opening 70.

Bunched back of him at 137 were Don Whitt of Borrego Springs, Calif., Billy Maxwell and Bo Wininger of Odessa, Texas, and Dave Ragan of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Littler, from Singing Hills, Calif., threatened early in his second to run away from the field of 130. But he caught his first bogey after the storm.

Littler, for the second straight day, bagged a flock of birdies on the 9th through the 12th holes. He carded his first on the second with a 20-foot putt and picked up another on the fourth with an 8-footer.

Frankie Carbo Goes To Jail

Fights Extradition To New York State

By LEE LINDER

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Ex-convict Frankie Carbo, reputed underworld boxing czar, went to jail Friday while he fights extradition to New York on conspiracy charges.

Carbo, 54, and gray-haired, sat unsmilingly beside his attorney as Judge Benjamin Dzick cancelled a $25,000 bond and remanded him to jail.

A New York City prosecutor, seeking prompt extradition, described him as a "most corrupt, corrosive and degenerating influence on the sport of boxing."

Carbo was arrested Memorial Day trying to sneak out the rear door of a friend's home, while police knocked on the front door. A magistrate first denied bail. Later Judge Dzick fixed the $25,000 figure.

Carbo, long a fugitive, was indicted by a New York grand jury last July 24. He is accused of conspiring to participate in a boxing match as a manager and matchmaker without a license. He also is wanted by the U.S. on federal income tax evasion charges.

Judge Dzick, noting that New Jersey Gov. Robert B. Meyner signed extradition papers, said he had no legal authority to set bail.

The next step, said the judge, is for Carbo to seek freedom on a writ of habeas corpus. He gave Carbo 10 days to file the writ, or be turned over to New York authorities without further hearing.

Calhoun, Tiger Fight To Draw

2,000 Boo Decision In Bout At Garden

NEW YORK (UPI) — Middleweight Rory Calhoun of White Plains, N. Y., held Dick Tiger of Nigeria, British empire champion, to an unpopular 10-round draw at Madison Square Garden Friday night in Tiger's impressive American debut.

The estimated 2,000 fans booed the decision lustily, most of them apparently believing that Tiger and his relentless left-hooking attack had won the bout.

However, only one of the three ring officials, judge Bill Recht, favored the stocky Negro from Equatorial West Africa. Recht had Tiger ahead on a rounds basis, 6-3-1. Judge Bill Forst favored Calhoun, 5-4-1. And referee Mark Conn called it even, giving each boxer five rounds and five points.

The United Press International favored Tiger, 6-3-1.

Tiger, weighing 163½ pounds to Calhoun's 163¼, beat Calhoun in nearly every exchange and was completely his master at close quarters.

Tiger, fighting from a semicrouch, staggered Rory with short snappy hooks to the jaw in the third round. He lifted Rory half off his feet with a left hook to the jaw in the fourth and later in that session rocked him with another left hook. In the eighth round, Calhoun was belted back onto his heels four times.

Calhoun's best rounds were the first, sixth and ninth. In those sessions, Calhoun managed to unlimber his wild swings at long range and he landed some of the few head punches he tried during the nationally televised bout.

Last Saturday and Sunday, Hemmis won three out of four events in climbs at Albany and Rochester and in doing so established hill records in both New York State events.

The nation's leading point scorer two times in the last three years took a first and second at the capital of the Empire State. Hemmis finished second to the veteran Howard Mitzel, York, Pa., veteran in the first pro event. The order of the finish was as follows:

No. 1—Howard Mitzel, 7.06 seconds. 2. Hemmis, 7:25 seconds. 3. Charles Jacobs, Wind Gap, Pa., 8.30 seconds and Thomas Paradise, 8.67.

It was in the first event at Rochester on Sunday that the Cumberland B.&O. employe broke the hill record by negotiating the distance in 6.63. Trailing behind in this order were Charley Jacobs, 7.51, Jake Nealand, Cleveland 7.91 and Howard Mitzel, York.

Hemmis made it a sweep for the day by taking the finale at Rochester in 6.99 seconds. Mitzel was second, Earl Buck, Detroit, third, and Andy Baycura, Pittsburgh, fourth.

Royal Orbit Favored In Peter Pan

Hillsdale To Run At Hollywood Park

By The Associated Press

Royal Orbit and Hillsdale, two of the hottest class horses in the country, were favored Saturday to pick up more gold and glory in leading races at Belmont and Hollywood

An easy winner in the Preakness after finishing fourth in the Kentucky Derby, Royal Orbit drew only three rivals for the $25,000-added Peter Pan at Belmont Park. This mile and an eighth feature is the final prep for the mile and a half Belmont Stakes the following Saturday.

Royal Orbit, owned by Mrs. Halina Braunstein, will carry top weight of 127 pounds including Jockey Willie Harmatz. He will give away plenty of weight to the other three, all Belmont eligibles. They are Bagdad (118, Bob Ussery), Black Hills (113, Eddie Arcaro) and The Irishman (109, Johnny Ruane).

The Peter Pan will be telecast (CBS) from 3 to 3:30 p.m. (EST).

At Hollywood Park, Hillsdale will concede from 6 to 20 pounds to 7 rivals in the $50,000-added Argonaut Handicap.

C. W. Smith's 4-year-old leading handicap racer in the nation will be seeking his seventh stakes victory of the year. Hillsdale already is the leading money winner for 1959 with $270,250.

Hillsdale's opposition in the mile run includes Terrang (122), winner of the Argonaut last year in a flashy 1:33 4-5; Seaneen (116); Americao (114); How Now (115); Whodunit (108); The Searcher (109) and Fleet Nasrullah (115).

17 U. S. Golfers In British Open

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—Johnny Bulla and Amateur Bob Sweeny head a list of 17 Americans entered in the British Open Golf Championship, beginning June 29 at Muirfield.

The tournament for the first time in years does not include the name of a topline U.S. professional.

Bulla is a veteran teaching pro who dropped off the circuit years ago. Currently registered from Phoenix, Ariz., he won the Southern California Open at Palm Springs last December.

Sweeny, Palm Beach, Fla., socialite, won the British Amateur title in 1937 and was runner-up to Arnold Palmer for the U.S. Amateur crown in 1954.

The first two days of play at Muirfield will be devoted to two 18-hole qualifying rounds which will reduce the field from 284 to 100. The 27-hole tournament proper is scheduled July 1-3.

The maximum time between drinks for the average camel is eight or ten days. If it were not required to work during this period, it could probably last longer.

Gene Littler Leads Eastern Open Tourney By Stroke

Ed Oliver Is Second With 133

Fred Hawkins Holds On To Third Place In Baltimore Test

By GEORGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gene Littler carved 5 more strokes off par 72 at stormy Pine Ridge Friday and was 12 to the good of the course standard and 1 ahead of his nearest competitor halfway through the Eastern Open.

Ed (Porky) Oliver, the 44-year-old jolly man of golf, stuck tenaciously to the heels of Littler, star of this year's professional tour. Littler, 28, went into Saturday's third round with 132 strokes to Oliver's 133.

Each went around the 6,820-yard course in 67 strokes despite tricky conditions caused by rain and wind accompanied by lightning for the second round.

Littler, however, had started out with a one-stroke edge on Oliver by virtue of a blistering 65 Thursday.

Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Texas, held on to third place although he lost ground to the leaders. Hawkins was at 135 on rounds of 67-68.

Henry Ransom, 48, of St. Andrews, Ill., moved up to fourth with the best round of the day, 66 on top of an opening 70.

Bunched back of him at 137 were Don Whitt of Borrego Springs, Calif., Billy Maxwell and Bo Wininger of Odessa, Texas, and Dave Ragan of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Littler, from Singing Hills, Calif., threatened early in his second to run away from the field of 130. But he caught his first bogey after the storm.

Littler, for the second straight day, bagged a flock of birdies on the 9th through the 12th holes. He carded his first on the second with a 20-foot putt and picked up another on the fourth with an 8-footer.

Frankie Carbo Goes To Jail

Fights Extradition To New York State

By LEE LINDER

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Ex-convict Frankie Carbo, reputed underworld boxing czar, went to jail Friday while he fights extradition to New York on conspiracy charges.

Carbo, 54, and gray-haired, sat unsmilingly beside his attorney as Judge Benjamin Dzick cancelled a $25,000 bond and remanded him to jail.

A New York City prosecutor, seeking prompt extradition, described him as a "most corrupt, corrosive and degenerating influence on the sport of boxing."

Carbo was arrested Memorial Day trying to sneak out the rear door of a friend's home, while police knocked on the front door. A magistrate first denied bail. Later Judge Dzick fixed the $25,000 figure.

Carbo, long a fugitive, was indicted by a New York grand jury last July 24. He is accused of conspiring to participate in a boxing match as a manager and matchmaker without a license. He also is wanted by the U.S. on federal income tax evasion charges.

Judge Dzick, noting that New Jersey Gov. Robert B. Meyner signed extradition papers, said he had no legal authority to set bail.

The next step, said the judge, is for Carbo to seek freedom on a writ of habeas corpus. He gave Carbo 10 days to file the writ, or be turned over to New York authorities without further hearing.

Calhoun, Tiger Fight To Draw

2,000 Boo Decision In Bout At Garden

NEW YORK (UPI) — Middleweight Rory Calhoun of White Plains, N. Y., held Dick Tiger of Nigeria, British empire champion, to an unpopular 10-round draw at Madison Square Garden Friday night in Tiger's impressive American debut.

The estimated 2,000 fans booed the decision lustily, most of them apparently believing that Tiger and his relentless left-hooking attack had won the bout.

However, only one of the three ring officials, judge Bill Recht, favored the stocky Negro from Equatorial West Africa. Recht had Tiger ahead on a rounds basis, 6-3-1. Judge Bill Forst favored Calhoun, 5-4-1. And referee Mark Conn called it even, giving each boxer five rounds and five points.

The United Press International favored Tiger, 6-3-1.

Tiger, weighing 163½ pounds to Calhoun's 163¼, beat Calhoun in nearly every exchange and was completely his master at close quarters.

Tiger, fighting from a semi-crouch, staggered Rory with short snappy hooks to the jaw in the third round. He lifted Rory half off his feet with a left hook to the jaw in the fourth and later in that session rocked him with another left hook. In the eighth round, Calhoun was belted back onto his heels four times.

Calhoun's best rounds were the first, sixth and ninth. In those sessions, Calhoun managed to unlimber his wild swings at long range and he landed some of the few head punches he tried during the nationally televised bout.

Hemmis Adds To Laurels At Albany, Rochester

Cycle Hill Climber Sets Two Records; Wins 3 Out Of 4

Winner of eight out of ten events in five meets this season at Frederick, Md., York, Pa., Palestine, Ohio, and Rochester and Albany, N. Y., Joseph W. Hemmis, Cumberland's contribution to motorcycle hill climbing will be out to add to his laurels Sunday when he competes at Washington, Pa.

Last Saturday and Sunday, Hemmis won three out of four events in climbs at Albany and Rochester and in doing so established hill records in both New York State events.

The nation's leading point scorer two times in the last three years took a first and second at the capital of the Empire State. Hemmis finished second to the veteran Howard Mitzel, York, Pa., veteran in the first pro event. The order of the finish was as follows:

No. 1—Howard Mitzel, 7.06 seconds. 2. Hemmis, 7:25 seconds. 3. Charles Jacobs, Wind Gap, Pa., 8.30 seconds and Thomas Paradise, 8.67.

Later in the day, Hemmis cracked the hill record with a 6.85 performance. Mitzel was runner-up in 7:11 followed by Kenny Hatton, Ontario, Canada, and Charles Jacobs, 7.89 seconds.

It was in the first event at Rochester on Sunday that the Cumberland B.&O. employe broke the hill record by negotiating the distance in 6.63. Trailing behind in this order were Charley Jacobs, 7.51, Jake Nealand, Cleveland 7.91 and Howard Mitzel, York.

Hemmis made it a sweep for the day by taking the finale at Rochester in 6.99 seconds. Mitzel was second, Earl Buck, Detroit, third, and Andy Baycura, Pittsburgh, fourth.

Royal Orbit Favored In Peter Pan

Hillsdale To Run At Hollywood Park

By The Associated Press

Royal Orbit and Hillsdale, two of the hottest class horses in the country, were favored Saturday to pick up more gold and glory in leading races at Belmont and Hollywood

An easy winner in the Preakness after finishing fourth in the Kentucky Derby, Royal Orbit drew only three rivals for the $25,000-added Peter Pan at Belmont Park. This mile and an eighth feature is the final prep for the mile and a half Belmont Stakes the following Saturday.

Royal Orbit, owned by Mrs. Halina Braunstein, will carry top weight of 127 pounds including Jockey Willie Harmatz. He will give away plenty of weight to the other three, all Belmont eligibles. They are Bagdad (118, Bob Ussery), Black Hills (113, Eddie Arcaro) and The Irishman (109, Johnny Ruane).

The Peter Pan will be telecast (CBS) from 3 to 3:30 p.m. (EST).

At Hollywood Park, Hillsdale will concede from 6 to 20 pounds to 7 rivals in the $50,000-added Argonaut Handicap.

C. W. Smith's 4-year-old leading handicap racer in the nation will be seeking his seventh stakes victory of the year. Hillsdale already is the leading money winner for 1959 with $270,250.

Hillsdale's opposition in the mile run includes Terrang (122), winner of the Argonaut last year in a flashy 1:33 4-5; Seaneen (116); Americao (114); How Now (115); Whodunit (108); The Searcher (109) and Fleet Nasrullah (115).

Barrelville Wins Over Orioles, 6-1, Takes 3rd Place

Barrelville moved into third place in the Pen-Mar Little League with a 3-2 record by whipping the LaVale Orioles yesterday at Parkside Field by the score of 6-1.

Colen Kennell limited the Birds to five hits, including a homer and single by Gary Orendorf in three trips while his mates nicked Timmy Byrne for nine blows among which were homers by Walsh and Loar. Barth and Walsh of Barrelville each obtained three hits in four times at bat.

The loss was the fourth for the Orioles against three victories. Score:

BARRELVILLE 203 100—6 9 2
LAVALE ORIOLES 000 001—1 5 4
Kennell and Loar. Byrne and Orendorf.
HR—Walsh, Loar (Barrelville); G. Orendorf (LaVale).

Cardinals To Drill

The Cardinals of the Dapper Dan Little League will hold a practice session today at 4:30 p. m. at Post Field.

17 U. S. Golfers In British Open

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—Johnny Bulla and Amateur Bob Sweeny head a list of 17 Americans entered in the British Open Golf Championship, beginning June 29 at Muirfield.

The tournament for the first time in years does not include the name of a topline U.S. professional.

Bulla is a veteran teaching pro who dropped off the circuit years ago. Currently registered from Phoenix, Ariz., he won the Southern California Open at Palm Springs last December.

Sweeny, Palm Beach, Fla., socialite, won the British Amateur title in 1937 and was runner-up to Arnold Palmer for the U.S. Amateur crown in 1954.

The first two days of play at Muirfield will be devoted to two 18-hole qualifying rounds which will reduce the field from 284 to 100. The 27-hole tournament proper is scheduled July 1-3.

The maximum time between drinks for the average camel is eight or ten days. If it were not required to work during this period, it could probably last longer.

Sorrentino Wins Three

Former Fairgo Star Scores At Belmont

ELMONT, N. Y., June 6 (AP)—Meadow Stable's Rich Tradition came from far off the pace to win the Locust Valley Purse at Belmont Park today to climax quite an afternoon for Jockey Mike Sorrentino.

The 30-year-old resident of nearby Levittown, L. I., rode both ends of the $514.50 daily double composed of Mrs. Ben F. Whitaker's Ramblin Ronnie, $23.80, and Mrs. Lloyd P. Tate's Come About, $27.90, before he scored handily with Rich Tradition in the mile allowance test for 3-year-old fillies. The clocking was a moderate 1:38 2/5.

Rich Tradition, a daughter of Rosemont-Legendra, won by three lengths from the early pace-setter, Jules G. Krams' Starlet Miss, who saved the place by two lengths out of the money. Jockey Albino C. Valenzuela, who rode Starlet Miss, claimed foul against Sorrentino, but the stewards couldn't find any pictorial evidence of crowding at the top of the stretch.

Solid favorite with the crowd of 19,450, Rich Tradition paid $4.90, $3.40 and $2.50. Starlet Miss paid $5.40 and $3.10 and Tagama was $4.00 to show.

Bob Reifsnyder Signed By Rams

Navy's Tackle-End Is Draft Selection

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Los Angeles Rams Friday signed their unexpected "plum" from the last National Football League draft—Naval Academy lineman Bob Reifsnyder.

The Rams from an undisclosed source learned there was a good possibility Reifsnyder would be given a medical discharge instead of fulfilling his service obligation following graduation.

As a result, the Rams selected the huge tackle-end on the fourth round of the draft last November.

The 21-year-old midshipman was graduated two days ago as "anchor man," or last in his studies in the 1959 class and immediately was given his medical discharge because of an injured Achillies tendon.

Reifsnyder had undergone surgery for the injury and Rams physicians said he had recovered from the tendon trouble which permitted him to play only briefly last fall. In his junior year the 6 foot, 2 inch lineman was an outstanding performer.

A frog's tongue is fastened to the front of his mouth. This oddity gives him the advantage of added length.

Petite Etoile Wins 181st Epsom Oaks

EPSOM, England (AP) — Aly Khan's Petite Etoile came on strong in the last furlong Friday and won the 181st running of the Epsom Oaks for 3-year-old fillies.

The grey daughter of Petition out of Star of Iran took the lead for the first time an eighth of a mile from the wire and won by three lengths over the 7-4 favorite, Cantelo. Rose of Madina was third, another five lengths back.

Petite Etoile, third favorite in the field of 11, was timed in 2:35 4-5 for the mile and a half turf course.

Hawthorn Leaves $191,091 Estate

LONDON (AP) — Mike Hawthorn, world champion racing driver who died in an auto crash on a quiet English road last Jan. 7, left an estate of $191,091, his will disclosed Friday.

Hawthorn, who was 29 when he died, left everything to his widowed mother.

The African Gray Parrot is famous as a talking bird. In captivity, this bird has been known to survive as long as eighty years.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD—I would have sworn that Joan Collins was "in" as "Cleopatra" because all signs pointed to her to play the siren of the Nile. But come July, Joan is taking off for the south of France to star in "Lions at the Kill," which has been retitled "Seven Thieves."

The story is based on Max Catto's novel and is being produced by Sdyney Brehm for 20th Century - Fox from Boehm's own screenplay. He's made an offer to Fredric March and Richard Widmark for the two top male roles. The story is a mystery melodrama and will be shot in its entirety in southern France.

Although Lisa Kirk is very well known as a nightclub entertainer and a popular singer of records, she never has been seen on the stage on the West Coast. So her friends will be happy to hear that she makes her debut in Los Angeles at the Biltmore Theatre Aug. 10 in "Say Darling."

James Doolittle, who took over the Biltmore as well as the Greek Theatre, is producing the show and he is adding a number of extra musical numbers. Usually Bob Wells, Lisa's talented husband who does the Dinah Shore TV show, produces all of her plays, but I suppose he'll have a hand in it, although he's been very busy on TV.

After three weeks Lisa goes to San Francisco with the play.

One sure way to get publicity has always been to have everyone guessing who would play the top role in any motion picture. I am not accusing Panama and Frank, two smart lads of milking the role of Daisy Mae in "Li'L Abner," but we've certainly had everyone rumored.

I am reliably informed that the final selection has been made at Paramount, and the girl is Marjorie Helen, a beautiful redhead who has been under contract to 20th Century-Fox for two years. She's just passed her second test for the role and between you and me and all my readers, I have been told that Marjorie Helen definitely is in.

Wouldn't you know something would hold up Marlon Brando's "One-Eyed Jacks" again. This time it was a cute little scottie named "Tiger" who became temperamental and refused to do a scene at the last minute. Inasmuch as he had been pre-established in the picture, shots were held over another day because he couldn't be replaced.

"Tiger" can retire after this picture because he's been on the payroll for seven months. Lucky Tiger!

Marlon gave a big party at the Paramount commissary for members of the cast and crew who spent a lifetime on "One-Eyed Jacks." And now comes the editing—another lifetime job????

We hear too much about the sensational side of Hollywood and not enough about stories like this: Arthur Beck, husband of many years of former silent screen star, Leah Baird, writes that she is desperately ill at the Motion Picture Country Hospital suffering from neurasthenia, and undergoing blood transfusions.

"A thousand thanks of gratitude to all co-workers at Warner Bros., studio who called to serve as blood donors—actors, electricians, grips and the studio police." He signed it, "Leah's grateful husband."

How are the art house devotees going to take this: French Brigitte Bardot will comb her unruly hair and park her "sex-kittenish" ways at least long enough to star in "A Lady's Affair." This is the idea of French Director Marcel Camus who directed the Cannes Film Festival prize-winning film "Orfeu Negro." The title role calls for much more drama and dignity than is usually associated with Brigitte and her pouty ways.

Sorrentino Wins Three

Former Fairgo Star Scores At Belmont

ELMONT, N. Y., June 6 (AP)—Meadow Stable's Rich Tradition came from far off the pace to win the Locust Valley Purse at Belmont Park today to climax quite an afternoon for Jockey Mike Sorrentino.

The 30-year-old resident of nearby Levittown, L. I., rode both ends of the $514.50 daily double composed of Mrs. Ben F. Whitaker's Ramblin Ronnie, $23.80, and Mrs. Lloyd P. Tate's Come About, $27.90, before he scored handily with Rich Tradition in the mile allowance test for 3-year-old fillies. The clocking was a moderate 1:38 2/5.

Rich Tradition, a daughter of Rosemont-Legendra, won by three lengths from the early pace-setter, Jules G. Krams' Starlet Miss, who saved the place by two lengths out of the money. Jockey Albino C. Valenzuela, who rode Starlet Miss, claimed foul against Sorrentino, but the stewards couldn't find any pictorial evidence of crowding at the top of the stretch.

Solid favorite with the crowd of 19,450, Rich Tradition paid $4.90, $3.40 and $2.50. Starlet Miss paid $5.40 and $3.10 and Tagama was $4.00 to show.

Bob Reifsnyder Signed By Rams

Navy's Tackle-End Is Draft Selection

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Los Angeles Rams Friday signed their unexpected "plum" from the last National Football League draft—Naval Academy lineman Bob Reifsnyder.

The Rams from an undisclosed source learned there was a good possibility Reifsnyder would be given a medical discharge instead of fulfilling his service obligation following graduation.

As a result, the Rams selected the huge tackle-end on the fourth round of the draft last November.

The 21-year-old midshipman was graduated two days ago as "anchor man," or last in his studies in the 1959 class and immediately was given his medical discharge because of an injured Achillies tendon.

Reifsnyder had undergone surgery for the injury and Rams physicians said he had recovered from the tendon trouble which permitted him to play only briefly last fall. In his junior year the 6 foot, 2 inch lineman was an outstanding performer.

A frog's tongue is fastened to the front of his mouth. This oddity gives him the advantage of added length.

Petite Etoile Wins 181st Epsom Oaks

EPSOM, England (AP) — Aly Khan's Petite Etoile came on strong in the last furlong Friday and won the 181st running of the Epsom Oaks for 3-year-old fillies.

The grey daughter of Petition out of Star of Iran took the lead for the first time an eighth of a mile from the wire and won by three lengths over the 7-4 favorite, Cantelo. Rose of Madina was third, another five lengths back.

Petite Etoile, third favorite in the field of 11, was timed in 2:35 4-5 for the mile and a half turf course.

Hawthorn Leaves $191,091 Estate

LONDON (AP) — Mike Hawthorn, world champion racing driver who died in an auto crash on a quiet English road last Jan. 7, left an estate of $191,091, his will disclosed Friday.

Hawthorn, who was 29 when he died, left everything to his widowed mother.

The African Gray Parrot is famous as a talking bird. In captivity, this bird has been known to survive as long as eighty years.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD—I would have sworn that Joan Collins was "in" as "Cleopatra" because all signs pointed to her to play the siren of the Nile. But come July, Joan is taking off for the south of France to star in "Lions at the Kill," which has been retitled "Seven Thieves."

The story is based on Max Catto's novel and is being produced by Sdyney Brehm for 20th Century - Fox from Boehm's own screenplay. He's made an offer to Fredric March and Richard Widmark for the two top male roles. The story is a mystery melodrama and will be shot in its entirety in southern France.

Although Lisa Kirk is very well known as a nightclub entertainer and a popular singer of records, she never has been seen on the stage on the West Coast. So her friends will be happy to hear that she makes her debut in Los Angeles at the Biltmore Theatre Aug. 10 in "Say Darling."

James Doolittle, who took over the Biltmore as well as the Greek Theatre, is producing the show and he is adding a number of extra musical numbers. Usually Bob Wells, Lisa's talented husband who does the Dinah Shore TV show, produces all of her plays, but I suppose he'll have a hand in it, although he's been very busy on TV.

After three weeks Lisa goes to San Francisco with the play.

One sure way to get publicity has always been to have everyone guessing who would play the top role in any motion picture. I am not accusing Panama and Frank, two smart lads of milking the role of Daisy Mae in "Li'L Abner," but we've certainly had everyone rumored.

I am reliably informed that the final selection has been made at Paramount, and the girl is Marjorie Helen, a beautiful redhead who has been under contract to 20th Century-Fox for two years. She's just passed her second test for the role and between you and me and all my readers, I have been told that Marjorie Helen definitely is in.

Wouldn't you know something would hold up Marlon Brando's "One-Eyed Jacks" again. This time it was a cute little scottie named "Tiger" who became temperamental and refused to do a scene at the last minute. Inasmuch as he had been pre-established in the picture, shots were held over another day because he couldn't be replaced.

"Tiger" can retire after this picture because he's been on the payroll for seven months. Lucky Tiger!

Marlon gave a big party at the Paramount commissary for members of the cast and crew who spent a lifetime on "One-Eyed Jacks." And now comes the editing—another lifetime job????

We hear too much about the sensational side of Hollywood and not enough about stories like this: Arthur Beck, husband of many years of former silent screen star, Leah Baird, writes that she is desperately ill at the Motion Picture Country Hospital suffering from neurasthenia, and undergoing blood transfusions.

"A thousand thanks of gratitude to all co-workers at Warner Bros., studio who called to serve as blood donors—actors, electricians, grips and the studio police." He signed it, "Leah's grateful husband."

How are the art house devotees going to take this: French Brigitte Bardot will comb her unruly hair and park her "sex-kittenish" ways at least long enough to star in "A Lady's Affair." This is the idea of French Director Marcel Camus who directed the Cannes Film Festival prize-winning film "Orfeu Negro." The title role calls for much more drama and dignity than is usually associated with Brigitte and her pouty ways.

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear father, William Hamilton, who passed away 8 years ago today, June 6, 1951.

In our hearts we'd like to stray,
Along the road of yesterday.
To hear you laugh and see you smile,
To talk with you a little while.
We cannot bring the old days back,
Your hand we cannot touch,
But God has given us sweet memories
Of a dear Dad we loved so much.

Sadly missed by daughters:
Mrs. Erma Robinette, Mrs. Virginia Gray, Mrs. Mildred Blacker, Mrs. Edna Lewis, Mrs. Jean Mason.

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Slavko Nicholas Krnaya, who passed away 18 years ago, June 7, 1941.

Since you went first and left us to remain
And many hours have passed,
I can still feel you near me,
My hand in your last clasp.

Sadly missed by his Father, Mother, Brother and Sister.

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear father, William Hamilton, who passed away 8 years ago today, June 6, 1951.

In our hearts we'd like to stray,
Along the road of yesterday,
To hear you laugh and see you smile,
To talk with you a little while.
We cannot bring the old days back,
Your hand we cannot touch,
But God has given us sweet memories
Of a dear Dad we loved so much.

Sadly missed by daughters: Mrs. Erma Robinette, Mrs. Virginia Gray, Mrs. Mildred Blacker, Mrs. Edna Lewis, Mrs. Jean Mason.

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Slavko Nicholas Krnaya, who passed away 18 years ago, June 7, 1941.

Since you went first and left us to remain
And many hours have passed,
I can still feel you near me,
My hand in your last clasp.

Sadly missed by his Father, Mother, Brother and Sister.

NOTICE

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 127 of the Charter of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, (1950 Edition), notice is hereby given that the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland did, in regular session Monday, June 1, 1959, approve the Report of Commissioners for the closing of portions of the following streets and alleys: Glenwod Street from Oldtown Road to Hemlock Alley; Gay Street from Oldtown Road to the easterly side of Hemlock Alley; Lamont Street from Cresap Street to Thomas Street; Grape Alley from Oldtown Road to Hemlock Alley; Rolling Mill Alley from Oldtown Road to Hemlock Alley; Hemlock Alley from Cresap Street to Thomas Street; Rosewood Alley from Cresap Street to Thomas Street; Black's Alley from Cresap Street to Thomas Street; an Unnamed Alley lying parallel with an equidistant between Gay Street and Rolling Mill Alley from Black Alley to Hemlock Alley; an Unnamed Alley lying parallel with and 68 feet distant from Gay Street from Hemlock Alley in a southwesterly direction for approximately 56.64 feet, all located in Black's Addition to Cumberland.

After meeting on the premises (10:30 A. M., May 27, 1959) and remaining there for a period in excess of one-half (½) hour, the Commissioners report that no property owners appeared to be heard for or against the closing of said portions of streets and alleys, and therefore, the Commissioners present the following:

"That there are no damages or benefits to the owners of the lots binding on the portions of said streets and alleys or any other lots in the vicinity.

That there are equal benefits from the closing of said streets and alleys to the owners of lots abutting thereon and that said benefits to be derived by said owners are dependent upon the future use of said property by the owners, or their heirs and assigns which they may acquire as the abutting property owners by the closing of said streets and alleys."

Any person, persons, firm or corporation feeling aggrieved by the decision of the Commissioners may appeal therefrom within thirty (30) days after June 1, 1959, and filing written notice of such appeal with the City Clerk of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, who will transmit same to the Circuit Court for Allegany County to be docketed for jury trial.

City To Furnish Sewage Data

Cumberland data on its sewage treatment plant will be used in conjunction with a sewage survey of the Georges Creek area.

Green Associates of Baltimore, consulting engineers, had asked the Board of Allegany County Commissioners to request the city data. Yesterday, City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery informed the county it would be furnished.

A request was received from Earl D. Grim, supervisor of the County Infirmary, for a three-month leave of absence for Mrs. Pheba J. Welsh, a practical nurse at the institution. He said she wants July, August and September off so she can take care of her mother who is ill.

The request was turned over to the Civil Service Board for action.

NOTICE

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 127 of the Charter of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, (1950 Edition), notice is hereby given that the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland did, in regular session Monday, June 1, 1959, approve the Report of Commissioners for the closing of portions of the following streets and alleys: Glenwod Street from Oldtown Road to Hemlock Alley; Gay Street from Oldtown Road to the easterly side of Hemlock Alley; Lamont Street from Cresap Street to Thomas Street; Grape Alley from Oldtown Road to Hemlock Alley; Rolling Mill Alley from Oldtown Road to Hemlock Alley; Hemlock Alley from Cresap Street to Thomas Street; Rosewood Alley from Cresap Street to Thomas Street; Black's Alley from Cresap Street to Thomas Street; an Unnamed Alley lying parallel with an equidistant between Gay Street and Rolling Mill Alley from Black Alley to Hemlock Alley; an Unnamed Alley lying parallel with and 68 feet distant from Gay Street from Hemlock Alley in a southwesterly direction for approximately 56.64 feet, all located in Black's Addition to Cumberland.

After meeting on the premises (10:30 A. M., May 27, 1959) and remaining there for a period in excess of one-half (½) hour, the Commissioners report that no property owners appeared to be heard for or against the closing of said portions of streets and alleys, and therefore, the Commissioners present the following:

> "That there are no damages or benefits to the owners of the lots binding on the portions of said streets and alleys or any other lots in the vicinity.
> That there are equal benefits from the closing of said streets and alleys to the owners of lots abutting thereon and that said benefits to be derived by said owners are dependent upon the future use of said property by the owners, or their heirs and assigns which they may acquire as the abutting property owners by the closing of said streets and alleys."

Any person, persons, firm or corporation feeling aggrieved by the decision of the Commissioners may appeal therefrom within thirty (30) days after June 1, 1959, and filing written notice of such appeal with the City Clerk of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, who will transmit same to the Circuit Court for Allegany County to be docketed for jury trial.

"Gee, for a minute I was worried!"

Mr., Mrs. G. O. Stroup Mark 50th Anniversary With Open House

Mr. and Mrs. George O. Stroup, 22 Valley Street, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with open house May 30.

The former Miss Grace Leota Stahlman and Mr. Stroup were married in Jamestown, N.Y., May 27, 1909. They have resided in Cumberland 34 years.

The couple has eight children. They are Mrs. Urner Carl Jr., Dans Mountain; Mrs. Raymond Easton Sr., Cumberland; Arnold, Baltimore; Otis, Severna Park; Glenn W., Baltimore; Ira D., Franconia, N. H.; Richard S., Cumberland, and Mrs. William Stewart, Keyser. They also have 18 grandchildren.

City To Furnish Sewage Data

Cumberland data on its sewage treatment plant will be used in conjunction with a sewage survey of the Georges Creek area.

Green Associates of Baltimore, consulting engineers, had asked the Board of Allegany County Commissioners to request the city data. Yesterday, City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery informed the county it would be furnished.

A request was received from Earl D. Grim, supervisor of the County Infirmary, for a three-month leave of absence for Mrs. Pheba J. Welsh, a practical nurse at the institution. He said she wants July, August and September off so she can take care of her mother who is ill.

The request was turned over to the Civil Service Board for action.

Rails Carry The Ball In Stock Market Rise

NEW YORK (UPI) — Rails carried the ball for the stock market, rising more than a point on average after nine sessions of decline, while industrials suffered their fifth straight drop.

Interest in the rails was spurred by three things: Report of sharply higher earnings for the class I roads, a carloadings figure which topped 1957 for the first time this year, and an optimistic forecast by the head of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Gains in the rails, despite some late shading of prices on realizing, extended past a point in Rock Island and Kansas City Southern, with major fractional improvement in Atlantic Coast Line, Chesapeake & Ohio, New Haven and Pennsylvania.

At the opposite extreme, tobaccos were hit hard, with losses of nearly 3 points in American Tobacco, close to 2 in Philip Morris and Reynolds as the American Cancer Society announced plans for a massive anti-smoking campaign aimed primarily at teenagers.

Industrials generally were mixed. The drop in American Tobacco, along with losses of 2 points in Goodyear and a point in Allied Chemical brought a loss in the industrial average.

Johnson & Johnson, which spurted 4 points Thursday after announcement of a new drug which it says can dissolve blood clots, rose nearly 2 points. Pfizer gained over 2 bug American Home Products was cut more than 5 points.

There were gains of a point or more in Eastman Kodak, Goodrich, General Mills, Eaton Manufacturing, Borden, Kennecott and a 4½ points rise in Newmont Mining.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grains were lower Friday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell, wheat was off ⅝ to up ⅛; corn off ½ to ⅝; oats off ⅛ to ½; new oats off ¼ to ½; rye off ⅞ to 1¼; soybeans off ⅞ to 2.

Trade in wheat was slow and easier. Scattered selling was larger than scattered buying. A little hedging was noted. Weather continued to be unsettled in the Southwest.

Corn also was easier, with deferred contracts the weakest. Export and cash houses bought July, and commission houses sold. A large commission house sold March, and July was sold against July wheat purchases.

Export subsidies were granted on 2,630,000 bushels of corn and 290,000 bushels of oats.

Oats turned easier after a steady opening. Cash interests sold new and old July. Rye was heavy, with prices off more than a cent in December. Stop-loss selling took place.

Soybeans were quiet and weaker. Favorable wethr and crop reports and easier oil prices were factors.

Outside markets were mixed. The range:

Rails Carry The Ball In Stock Market Rise

NEW YORK (UPI) — Rails carried the ball for the stock market, rising more than a point on average after nine sessions of decline, while industrials suffered their fifth straight drop.

Interest in the rails was spurred by three things: Report of sharply higher earnings for the class I roads, a carloadings figure which topped 1957 for the first time this year, and an optimistic forecast by the head of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Gains in the rails, despite some late shading of prices on realizing, extended past a point in Rock Island and Kansas City Southern, with major fractional improvement in Atlantic Coast Line, Chesapeake & Ohio, New Haven and Pennsylvania.

At the opposite extreme, tobaccos were hit hard, with losses of nearly 3 points in American Tobacco, close to 2 in Philip Morris and Reynolds as the American Cancer Society announced plans for a massive anti-smoking campaign aimed primarily at teenagers.

Industrials generally were mixed. The drop in American Tobacco, along with losses of 2 points in Goodyear and a point in Allied Chemical brought a loss in the industrial average.

Johnson & Johnson, which spurted 4 points Thursday after announcement of a new drug which it says can dissolve blood clots, rose nearly 2 points. Pfizer gained over 2 bug American Home Products was cut more than 5 points.

There were gains of a point or more in Eastman Kodak, Goodrich, General Mills, Eaton Manufacturing, Borden, Kennecott and a 4½ points rise in Newmont Mining.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grains were lower Friday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell, wheat was off ⅝ to up ⅛; corn off ½ to ⅝; oats off ¼ to ½; new oats off ¼ to ½; rye off ⅞ to 1¼; soybeans off ⅞ to 2.

Trade in wheat was slow and easier. Scattered selling was larger than scattered buying. A little hedging was noted. Weather continued to be unsettled in the Southwest.

Corn also was easier, with deferred contracts the weakest. Export and cash houses bought July, and commission houses sold. A large commission house sold March, and July was sold against July wheat purchases.

Export subsidies were granted on 2,630,000 bushels of corn and 290,000 bushels of oats.

Oats turned easier after a steady opening. Cash interests sold new and old July. Rye was heavy, with prices off more than a cent in December. Stop-loss selling took place.

Soybeans were quiet and weaker. Favorable wethr and crop reports and easier oil prices were factors.

Outside markets were mixed. The range:

Boy Missing, Believed Dead After Crash

Car Plunges Into South Branch Near Moorefield, W. Va.

A 15-year-old Petersburg, W. Va., boy apparently drowned early this morning when an automobile crashed into the South Branch of the Potomac River about four miles north of Moorefield.

The driver of the vehicle, 18-year-old Glen Bensenhaver of Rig, W. Va., was thrown clear of the car when it missed the River Bridge and tumbled into the 30-foot deep water about 12:15 a. m.

He swam clear but told authorities Bobby Harper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harper, Petersburg, was in the car.

The hysterical lad, screaming "Bobby is killed," was helped from the water and rushed to a hospital by ambulance. State police said he appeared to be suffering from shock.

Dragging operations were begun immediately by state police from Moorefield and by the Moorefield Volunteer Fire Company.

A large wrecker was brought to the scene and rescuers were able to lift the car from the river.

Police said a search of the car, held above the water by cables from the wrecker on the bridge, revealed the Harper boy's body was not in the vehicle.

Approximately 15 persons with small rowboats and grappling hooks were dragging the river in an effort to find the young boy's body.

State Police said the accident apparently occurred when the automobile, traveling south on U. S. 220, missed a slight curve at the bridge entrance and tumbled over the embankment into the river.

A large crowd of persons gathered at the scene and police were using searchlights and automobile lights to illuminate the area during the search for Harper.

Cpl. C. G. Hamrick and Trooper Jack Baker of the Moorefield detachment of the West Virginia State Police are directing the operation.

Boy Missing, Believed Dead After Crash

Car Plunges Into South Branch Near Moorefield, W. Va.

A 15-year-old Petersburg, W. Va., boy apparently drowned early this morning when an automobile crashed into the South Branch of the Potomac River about four miles north of Moorefield.

The driver of the vehicle, 18-year-old Glen Bensenhaver of Rig, W. Va., was thrown clear of the car when it missed the River Bridge and tumbled into the 30-foot deep water about 12:15 a. m.

He swam clear but told authorities Bobby Harper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harper, Petersburg, was in the car.

The hysterical lad, screaming "Bobby is killed," was helped from the water and rushed to a hospital by ambulance. State police said he appeared to be suffering from shock.

Dragging operations were begun immediately by state police from Moorefield and by the Moorefield Volunteer Fire Company.

A large wrecker was brought to the scene and rescuers were able to lift the car from the river.

Police said a search of the car, held above the water by cables from the wrecker on the bridge, revealed the Harper boy's body was not in the vehicle.

Approximately 15 persons with small rowboats and grappling hooks were dragging the river in an effort to find the young boy's body.

State Police said the accident apparently occurred when the automobile, traveling south on U. S. 220, missed a slight curve at the bridge entrance and tumbled over the embankment into the river.

A large crowd of persons gathered at the scene and police were using searchlights and automobile lights to illuminate the area during the search for Harper.

Cpl. C. G. Hamrick and Trooper Jack Baker of the Moorefield detachment of the West Virginia State Police are directing the operation.
